ATTEMPT MADE TO KILL ITALIAN KING

'Mitchel Field Or Heaven' Goal Of German Monoplane

'BREMEN' FIGHTS ELEMENTS OVER ATLANTIC ON FLIGHT NEVER BEFORE COMPLETED

James Fitzmaurice, Chief of Irish Air Forces, Accompanies Koehl and Baron Von Huenefeld

LEAVE BALDONNEL AT 5:38 A. M.

By GEORGE MACDONOUGH
United Press Staff Correspondent

BALDONNEL AIRDROME, Berlin, Ireland, April 12.—Two Germans and a laughing Irishman today attempted a flight that no man ever accomplished—a westward crossing of the north atlantic.

At 5:38 a. m. today, the trim gray monoplane "Bremen" glided down the board runway at Baldonnel field and started toward "Mitchel field, L. I., or heaven."

In the plane were Baron Gunther Von Huenefeld, Capt. Hermann Koehl and Commandant James Fitzmaurice, of the Irish Free State air force.

AMERICA-BOUND

Capt. Hermann Koehl, who took off from Ireland this morning with two companions, in the Junkers plane "Bremen," with "Mitchel field or heaven" his goal. The plane was last seen passing out to sea.

Within 36 hours they hoped to be in New York—to accomplish a feat that in the last 15 months has defied four attempts.

Their plane was capable of more than 90 miles an hour flying speed. At that rate and on their own idea that 36 hours would be sufficient for the flight, they should glide to a landing on Mitchel field at about noon Friday.

When the plane left it carried sufficient gasoline for 45 hours in the air.

German, Irish Flags

The fuselage was marked with a German flag and alongside it had been painted a Free State tri-color since Commandant Fitzmaurice joined the expedition.

A Free State plane accompanied the flyers over Ireland.

The Free State plane took off at 5:20 a. m., leading many observers to believe that the "Bremen" was under way. The transatlantic plane, however, did not take the air until 5:38 a. m.

When the three climbed into the cabin of the Junkers machine, they waved a farewell. A deafening roar made many of the 500 people at the field, a crowd that included President and Mrs. Cosgrave and the German consul—clasp their hands over their ears.

The plane rolled slowly down the runway, gained speed and easily pointed west toward the great unconquered spaces of the North Atlantic.

Sure of Success

All were sure of success. Shortly before the takeoff, Koehl went to a little Roman Catholic church near the field and said confession. He was radiant when he came from the church and assured friends at the field that the plane soon would reach America.

The Germans arrived here suddenly a few weeks ago from Berlin. In addition to Koehl and Von Huenefeld, Arthur Spingler was in the plane. They intended to stop only a few hours and then start for America, but the weather was not favorable.

Finally Spindler returned to Germany and Fitzmaurice was selected to replace him as assistant pilot to Koehl.

The flyers were unprepared for a siege on the buffeting North Atlantic seas should their plane be forced down.

TWO MEN, TWO WOMEN SEIZED IN ALLEGED RANSOM KIDNAPING

Victim Makes Escape After Cutting Bonds

Asserted L. A. Bootlegger Forced to Write Wife For $10,000

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, April 12.—Two men and two women were arrested in San Fernando valley early today and charged with the kidnaping for $10,000 ransom of George Olhausen, asserted bootlegger.

The suspects taken were Robert and Maybelle Corbett, Edward C. Morris and Peggy Larkin, 32. Miss Larkin gave her address as 6141 Franklin avenue, Hollywood.

Olhausen, who has been engaged in liquor traffic, according to police, was abducted from his home early Wednesday morning, on the ruse that he was wanted at detective headquarters.

Overpowered In Car

He told officers that when he climbed into an alleged police car, he was set upon and over-powered by the two men and two women.

They took him to the Corbett home, where he was bound and gagged. He was held there until last night, when he was ordered to write a ransom note to his wife, instructing her to raise $10,000. Instructions as to the delivery of the money were to be sent later.

Olhausen then was taken to a deserted warehouse at Ventura boulevard and Balboa streets, he said, where his abductors left him to go to Los Angeles to prepare to leave the city in haste.

The captive wriggled loose from his bands while his kidnapers were away and telephoned police headquarters for protection. Detectives sent to the warehouse captured the two men and women when they returned this morning.

Charged With Kidnaping

The quartet was booked on charges of kidnaping .

Police later reported that Miss Larkin confessed her part in the action. She said she did not know it was a kidnaping, but thought instead that Olhausen owed money to Corbett and Morris.

She indicated she would turn state's witness, it was said.

THE REGISTER airplane delivery of the green baseball edition met with instant favor in the coast communities yesterday. Thirty minutes after the papers had been placed in Eddie Martin's plane at the foot of South Main street people in every beach community, from Huntington Beach to San Clemente, were reading the sports edition.

Crowds of boys and a representative of The Register were awaiting the edition in each city and the papers were quickly sold out, according to Roscoe Conklin, circulation manager of The Register.

Huntington Beach First

Six minutes after the airplane left the Martin field the papers were delivered in Huntington Beach. Five minutes later the boys were distributing the papers in Costa Mesa and exactly two minutes later the papers were dropped at Newport Beach. Seven minutes were required to fly from Newport Beach to Laguna Beach and four minutes after the papers had been delivered at Laguna Beach, residents of Dana Point were perusing the baseball edition.

Lose Fear of Thompson and Express Happiness Over Smith Elimination

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—A bulky new figure, in the person of Senator Charles S. Deneen, will be welcomed into the inner council of Republican leaders here as a result of his smashing victory over William Hale Thompson in the Illinois primary battle for control of the Republican party of that state, the council leaders said here today.

Deneen will take to the Kansas City convention a bloc of at least 47 delegates instructed for former Gov. Frank O. Lowden. He won them against Thompson's slate of delegates pledged to seek re-election of President Coolidge. Thompson will have only 14 delegates.

U. S. SUIT AGAINST LEVINE IS SETTLED

By JOSEPH S. WASNEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The government's suit against Charles A. Levine, transatlantic flyer, for heavy damages because of alleged manipulations in surplus war material contracts, has been settled out of court.

The government originally sought to recover $500,000 from Levine. Negotiations for a settlement have been going on ever since he flew to Germany with Clarence Chamberlin, last summer.

14 DIE, 45 HURT AS BOMB EXPLODES IN STREET JUST BEFORE MONARCH PASSES

Finding of Infernal Machine on Railroad Over Which Mussolini Was To Have Ridden Reported

MAN HOLDING FUSES ARRESTED

A CONCERTED effort to assassinate King Victor Emmanuel and Premier Benito Mussolini was revealed today.

A grenade bomb, connected with electric wires, exploded in the Piazza Giulio Cesare, in Milan today, just before the king passed over the thoroughfare on his way to the ninth exhibition fair at Milan, which he later opened.

Compilations made by the newspaper Il Secolo placed the dead at 14 and the injured at 45. The victims included both soldiers and bystanders.

Dispatches to Geneva from Como, Italy, said the authorities there had discovered an infernal machine on the railroad over which Premier Mussolini's train was to have passed yesterday from Milan, his home, to Rome.

The dispatch added the infernal machine had been charged with explosive gelatine.

It had two long fuses, the unattached ends of which were being held by a man concealed near the track. He was arrested.

Mussolini, however, returned to Rome safely yesterday and had a conference with S. Parker Gilbert, American agent general of reparations.

It was assumed the bomb had been found either yesterday or Tuesday.

Bomb Victims Badly Mangled, Report

MILAN, April 12.—An attempt to assassinate King Victor Emmanuel failed today when a bomb which had been placed in the Piazza Giulio Cesare exploded shortly before the king passed enroute to the Milan fair, killing many bystanders.

Compilations of the newspaper Il Secolo said 14 persons were killed by the bomb and 45 injured.

The king passed the scene a short time later and went to the fair which he inaugurated amidst the acclaim of a great throng.

Crowds had gathered in the streets awaiting the royal cortege in front of the triumphal arch.

Suddenly there was a frightful explosion. Pieces of the bombs were scattered to all sides into the crowd.

Troops and police took charge of the situation.

Victims were given first aid.

The 14 dead were badly mangled.

Some of those killed were in the street. Others were inside houses nearby.

Experts examined the remnants of the bomb and discovered it was

COURT ORDERS MUCH OF STEPHENSON'S DEPOSITION ELIMINATED IN KLAN TRIAL

By ROSS DOWNING
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 12.—The deposition of D. C. Stephenson, former Ku Klux Klan official in Indiana, was introduced in federal court today in the equity trial of the Klan against five "rebel" members.

The deposition was taken by Van C. Barrickman, defense counsel from Stephenson, who is serving a life sentence for murder in the Indiana state penitentiary.

Judge W. H. S. Thomson ruled much of the deposition out of the evidence as it was read to the court.

The deposition was introduced today over the motion of B. H. Connaughton, Klan counsel, that the entire deposition be suppressed. Judge Thomson overruled the motion.

The reading of the deposition, 170 pages long, required only an hour after the most sensational parts had been objected to by Klan counsel and their objections sustained by the court.

In the deposition, Stephenson attacked Hiram W. Evans, imperial wizard, and other officials of the klan.

After the deposition had been read the defense rested its case.

Practically all statements of sensational nature made by Stephenson were ruled out by the judge as being irrelevant to the suit of the Klan against the five "rebel" members.

Questions as to whether Evans had anything to do with the incarceration of Stephenson and as to the murder of Capt. W. S. Coburn, of Atlanta, Ga., were ruled out.

Statements by Stephenson that Evans had told him that "they" had burned Negroes at the stake in Texas, that "they" had cut off the ears of one and branded another on the forehead with the letters "K. K. K." were permitted to remain.

G. O. P. LEADERS REJOICING OVER DENEEN'S WIN

Republican leaders here generally were more gleeful about the Deneen victory than about any recent political happening. They never have played politically with Thompson and were fearful of what he might do with his Coolidge pledged delegates at the convention.

To fill their cup of cheer they also were thankful to Deneen for the defeat of former Senator-elect Frank L. Smith, of Illinois. Generally it had been feared that Smith would be re-elected and come down to the senate next session with credentials for his seat, and those who voted last spring and again last December to oust Smith because of his primary campaign expenditures were worried that they would be faced with the political necessity of voting against him annually.

Tabulations Increase Deneen Majorities

CHICAGO, April 12.—Defeat of the powerful Thompson-Small-Crowe political machine was completed today, final tabulations in Tuesday's Illinois primary serving only to increase the margin of victory of the allied forces of U. S. Senator Charles S. Deneen and former Gov. Frank O. Lowden.

Louis L. Emmerson defeated Small for the gubernatorial nomination by a majority which seemed likely to reach 450,000 and Otis F. Glenn defeated Frank L. Smith, who was elected once and appointed twice to the U. S. senate, but never has been allowed to take the oath of office.

Judge John A. Swanson, whose home was bombed during the primary campaign, swamped Crowe in the race for the nomination for state's attorney of Cook county.

Crocker Says Hoover Has Almost Enough Delegates

WASHINGTON, April 12.—William H. Crocker, Republican national committeeman from California, believes Secretary of Commerce Hoover has almost, if not quite, enough delegates to be nominated at the Kansas City convention, he said.

He said an "incomplete and conservative" survey showed Hoover has 525 votes, whereas 545 are needed to nominate.

BODIES OF THREE FLYERS DISCOVERED

The service is an innovation in newspaper delivery service in Orange county.

LUTHERAN PASTORS GATHER IN ORANGE

That the Lutheran church is "a singing church" was the statement of the Rev. A. Hansen, pastor of the Pasadena Lutheran church, who spoke yesterday at the meeting of the Lutheran Pastors' conference now in session in Orange.

The Rev. Mr. Hansen stressed the use of confessional hymns of genuine poetic and musical value and structure which play a prominent part in the Lutheran services. The subject of the address was "Church Music."

Several papers emphasizing the doctrinal position of the church were also read.

The afternoon was given over to a discussion of the missionary situation in Southern California. According to a report of the mission secretary, there are 38 active pastors in this section of the state, serving in 53 stations.

The secretary stated that the intensive work is being done among the deaf-mutes of the Coast and the Indians at Sherman institute as well as in other public institutions and among the negroes. This work entails the expenditure of more than $45,000 annually in Southern California.

Plane Reported 880 Miles West Of Ireland

DUBLIN, April 12.—It was reported without confirmation today that the Junkers monoplane "Bremen," carrying three flyers, was 880 miles due west of Ireland at 4 p. m. (11 a. m. eastern standard time.) The source of the information was not disclosed.

Civic Guards Report Sighting "Bremen"

GALWAY, Ireland, April 12.—The civic guards today reported to the United Press that the German airplane "Bremen" passed Costello bay at 7:05 a. m.

The plane was flying strong in a northwesterly direction, the guards reported.

Visibility was reported as very bad.

The "Bremen" covered the distance between Baldonnel airdrome and Costello bay, approximately 110 miles—in one hour and 27 minutes, the civic guards said. This would be an average speed of about 75 miles an hour, about 15 miles an hour less than the flyers hoped to make.

Heavy Head Winds Reported By Majestic

ABOARD S. S. MAJESTIC, April 12.—Heavy head winds developed on the Atlantic today, which were regarded as strong enough to affect seriously the three transatlantic flyers.

(The Majestic is between 700 and 800 miles west of Southampton, the New York offices of the White Star line said. Its destination is New York.)

Squalls Near American Continent Predicted

LONDON, April 12.—The transatlantic airplane "Bremen" may run into squalls as it nears the North American continent, the air ministry predicted today.

Reports this morning said there were winds over the entire course, but that most of the winds on the eastern or first half of the flight course would be westerly winds. There is some rain.

There is rain on the western half of the flight course and squalls, which have reached a velocity of 50 miles an hour, the reports said.

Easterly Gale And Rain Newfoundland Forecast

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, April 12.—An easterly gale, with rain along the coast, was forecast for this vicinity of the North Atlantic today.

At present visibility is good. There is a slight westerly wind which would not interfere with flying conditions.

LIBEL SUIT FILED BY BEACH EDITOR

their news columns, as a liar and an aspiring political boss whose main idea was to "kill others off" so that he could be the helmsman—the big chief in Newport Beach.

Roland Thompson and W. Maxwell Burke, attorneys for Sherman, filed the complaint today.

On April 5, it is claimed, both of Meyer's papers carried on their front page a cartoon in which the defendant is charged with contriving to injure Sherman and bring him into contempt and ridicule.

In this drawing, the complaint states, Sherman's head appeared on the body of a chicken, with certain little chickens around him, labeled as follows: "Dr. Hilmer", "His League", "Annexations", "J. A. Gant" and "Paul Ellsworth", with a sign pointing to the plaintiff's head, reading, "The Lying Hen". At the top of the sketch, the complaint alleged, was a caption, "These chickens think the pickings might be good, even among the sand dunes."

Election Cited

Sherman stated that Meyer and his papers intended to convey the false idea that the candidates for public office at the election of April 9 were hand picked by the plaintiff, that they were under his control and domination and that, if they were elected, Sherman intended to enrich himself thereby.

The Meyer newspapers, it is alleged, meant to convey that Sherman had built up a corrupt political organization and the complaint refers to an alleged publication in them of a list purporting to be "Sherman's new department chief."

The article in which they appeared, Sherman asserted, was intenderd to mean that certain candidates for election April 9 were his candidates, and that if they were elected, he would see to it that the parties named in the article would be appointed to the offices named. He claims that all the alleged false and defamatory stories and cartoons did damage his reputation and that readers of the papers in question did hold him in ridicule as a result.

"Fictitious Person"

Sherman asserted that Robert G. Farish, the supposed signer of a defamatory letter said to have been published in one of Meyer's papers, is a wholly fictitious person. This letter purported to relate a conversation between Sherman and a supporter in which the former is alleged to have admitted that, while he was posing as a defender of the people in a fight to "clean out the city hall," he really was maneuvering to get into office a group of men whom he could control in his own way.

The complaint alleges that the name Farish, was concocted by the defendants for the purpose of printing the supposed letter and that the conversation in it never occurred. It is wholly "false and fraudulent," according to the complaint.

In the letter, Sherman is asserted to have declared that the candidates supposed to have been supported by him would not act on any important matters or select any officers without consulting him and that he would be personally responsible to the people "that they would receive a square deal" if they helped him to "clean out the city hall."

Cites Letters

The letter continues, "But, said this man, you have been vigorously fighting the idea of a political boss. How do you explain that? Sherman twitched his lip and, with a wave of his hand, said, "Well, a political boss is all right if he has plenty of time to devote to his job, like myself. He can do a lot of good ironing out rough spots and in many ways direct the councilmen to look after the business of the city." "But you are deceiving the people," the letter continues, and says that "Sherman did not like this statement, replying, "Well, in politics anything is fair so long as you get what you are after."

Sherman denied that any such conversation took place and further declared that he had no political organization of which he was boss, and that he had no list or possible list of appointees to put into office.

MARY PICKFORD PROBABLY WILL QUIT PICTURES

always the call of the screen was too strong. Now it is said she never again will appear before the camera.

With her famous husband, Douglas Fairbanks, she will leave here probably next week for New York to embark May 5 for Europe. In Rome the screen pair will charter an airplane to fly over Constantinople, Cairo, Crete, Budapest, Vienna and other European cities.

Fairbanks To Continue

It is known that Doug thinks such a trip will cause his wife to forget her grief and possibly change her mind in regard to retirement. Regardless of her ultimate decision in the matter, Fairbanks will continue his picture making. For the present all studio activity of each has been stopped.

Miss Pickford and her mother were very close. The film star always credited her success to the guidance of her mother, while Mrs. Pickford contributed her good fortune to her daughter's ability and love.

A clause in Mrs. Pickford's will, which gave most of a several million dollar estate to Mary, read:

Mother Credits Mary

"Any fortune I have attained was due to the successful career of my favorite daughter and her unequaled generosity."

Mary Pickford was the first great film star and she held her place while almost a generation of other satellites came and departed.

During her early career she gained fame under the name "Biograph Mary." Her full name was not given to screen fans for several years.

From the one and two-reel days, when she was a pioneer with Griffith, Selig and a score of others, she gradually went to the larger and feature sized productions.

During the past several years the length of time between her pictures increased, giving frequent rise to rumors of her retirement.

Retirement Denied

Although officials at the United Artists studio, of which Miss Pickford is part owner, denied she had retired, film circles refused to take the denial seriously.

At Pickfair, home of the couple, it was said that both Miss Pickford and Doug were "out for the day," preparing to leave for New York Tuesday.

were marked by failure.

Eight Days Elapse

Nearly eight days have elapsed since the last definite word from Wilkins, who, with Lt. Carl B. Eielson, went to Point Barrow for a flight across the north pole.

The last message received here was that the departure scheduled for a week ago today, had been postponed because of cloudy weather.

Since that message two or three amateur stations have reported picking up signals from Wilkins, but it was felt certain that any messages Wilkins might have sent would have been picked up by government radio operators on constant duty here or at other stations.

Accident Feared

At first the silence of Wilkins was attributed to a possible broken generator or other trouble with his radio set, but the continued silence caused speculation as to whether an accident had befallen the expedition.

If Wilkins attempted a takeoff on the flight to Spitzbergen and his plane crashed and broke his radio set it will be weeks before any definite word can be brought by dog sled from Point Barrow to the nearest established radio station.

RETIRING CITY MANAGER IS HOST TO COUNCIL MEMBERS AND FRIENDS AT BANQUET

City councilmen and heads of city departments heaped ecomiums upon E. B. Collier, retiring city manager, at a dinner given at the country club last night by Collier as a farewell to his associates in administration of city affairs.

Collier contemplated the dinner merely as a compliment to his associates, but his friends took the situation out of his hands and indulged themselves in singing the praise of the man who has given Santa Ana her first experience with the managerial form of government—and the man who, it is declared, has made a big success of the experiment.

Admitting that they had always been more or less opposed to this system of handling city affairs, W. B. Williams, cashier of the First National bank, and Judge J. F. Talbott, city recorder, declared that the effective manner in which Collier had carried on the business administration of the city had converted them to the managerial form.

Mayor Frank L. Purinton and other members of the council, pointed with pride to the successful co-ordination of the departments of the city and complete elimination of petty jealousies existing prior to the advent of Collier as city manager nine months ago.

Collier's retirement from the position was declared by speakers to be a distinct loss to Santa Ana and general regret was expressed at his decision to withdraw from the position created by him by the council immediately following his resignation as city councilman in June of last year.

"The council was fortunate in getting a man of Collier's type to initiate the program here," Councilman J. L. McBride said, declaring that he did not anticipate procurement of another man with the qualifications possessed by the retiring manager, but expressed the hope that a man may be secured who can carry out plans developed by Collier.

"At the end of the fiscal year Santa Ana will be from $40,000 to $50,000 better off financially than it would have been under the old form of handling city business," Purinton declared, in directing attention to the fact that large sums of money had been expended for improvements that were not budgeted when the present schedule of expenses by departments was made out immediately after assumption of the position by Collier.

T. E. Stephenson officiated as toastmaster and in course of a brief address and remarks incident to the introduction of a speaker expressed his high appreciation of the manager as a business man, patient and affable gentleman, and a man of the highest consideration for those who were employed under him.

Charles D. Swanner, city attorney; Stanley Goode, W. G. Knox and W. J. Kelly, councilmen, and Clyde Jenken, city engineer, were others whom Stephenson called on for brief remarks.

On behalf of the assembled group, Mayor Purinton presented Collier with a beautiful gold watch chain with cigar knife attached.

Responding to the talks by his guests, Collier expressed his appreciation of the hearty co-operation given him by department heads and employes, and declared that credit for successes made were due more to them than to himself.

"There is no doubt that from a business standpoint the managerial system is correct," Collier said. Asserting that taxpayers in Santa Ana now were getting more for their money than ever before, he declared that no councilman or department head had any need for apologizing for what the administration had done in the past nine months. Assuring city employes that he will be ready at any time to give them advice or assist them in solving problems with which they may be confronted, Collier gave emphasis to the point that no friction has ever existed between him and the council or between him and department heads. He stressed the point that he is leaving his position because of personal interests and not because of reported friction. He has assumed the position of manager of the Red Fox Orchards association at Orange and contemplates taking up his work actively within a few days.

Following the turkey dinner served by the club management and the series of short addresses, the guests enjoyed themselves for a time in playing bridge. Mrs. Sam Preble took first honors for the ladies and Charles Swanner was given first prize for highest score among the men.

Accompanied by their wives the following councilmen and department heads were present: F. L. Purinton, Stanley Goode, W. J. Kelly, W. G. Knox and J. L. McBride, city council; J. F. Talbott, city recorder; C. D. Swanner, city attorney; L. C. Rogers, city marshal; Clyde Jenken, city engineer; H. O. Crowe, plumbing inspector; L. H. Banks, head bookkeeper; Sam Preble, building inspector; W. O. Packard, electrical inspector; E. L. Vegely, city clerk; John Luxembourger, fire chief; DeWitt Dudley, assistant city engineer; Miss Margaret Esau, city treasurer.

Special guests were Messrs. and Mesdames T. E. Stephenson, W. B. Williams, Mayor L. S. Stevenson of Orange; Councilman H. H. Williamson, of Newport Beach; W. O. Hart, of Orange; A. F. LeGaye, of Santa Ana; Mrs. Ruble Bush, secretary to Collier, and Horace Fine, of the Register.

Barrel Of Booze Causes Divorce

LOS ANGELES, April 12.—Whiskey purchased by the gallon wasn't so bad. There was always the possibility of a limit, but whiskey by the barrel was many gallons too much.

Mrs. Cassie Lee Glover told Judge McComb that Lee Glover formerly bought just a gallon at a time, and then ordered another gallon. "But when he began buying it by the barrel, I knew that I would never see him sober," she said.

The judge granted the divorce.

It's the REO 1929 FLYING CLOUD

SUGGESTS HUGE SIGN FOR AID TO AVIATORS

Appropriate to an address on aviation that was to follow, J. P. Baumgartner suggested at the meeting of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club yesterday that the club should initiate and then co-operate with other clubs in the county in promoting the painting of a big "Santa Ana sign" on the roof of the highest building in Santa Ana as a guide to aviators who may be flying over Santa Ana. He indicated the roof of the First National bank building as being the right place for such a sign.

The former editor's discussion was followed by a suggestion by G. R. Wells that a sign could be placed to advantage on the new steel reservoir the city is building in the northeast part of the city. It was pointed out that the Standard Oil company already has a big sign on the roof of its warehouse building.

The suggestions were referred to the Public affairs committee for further investigation and recommendation.

The club at La Habra yesterday put on the program for the local Kiwanians, in carrying out a policy of inter-club programs.

Clarence Chamberlain, of La Habra, a war time aviator, was introduced as the speaker, his subject being aviation. Emphasizing the point that no one man could be credited as an outstanding figure in the development of airplanes, because of the many who have been instrumental in bringing the new transportation in America to the advanced stage of today, Chamberlain pointed out that development must come from the government rather than from individuals or organizations commercializing flying.

Operation of airline services in Germany and England are more advanced that in America because the foreign countries subsidize such lines, the speaker asserted, but he added that by the end of this year the United States would take the lead in the number of miles flown by aircraft. He asserted that by the end of the year, Americans will have flown more plane miles than all of the foreign countries.

The speaker presented in details many points concerning planes and flying, having the faculty of presenting facts in such a manner as to make it easy for the layman to catch the points. He commented on the two types of motors, air-cooled and water-cooled and discussed the advantages of each. The water-cooled motors, he said, gave the best service in the colder climes. He predicted the time when planes would be flying regularly over the north pole, after routes have been chartered. Chamberlain stressed the point that aviators must become navigators, commenting on the fact that flying by land-marks is becoming obsolete. Ocean flying, he particularly pointed out, cannot be done on the land-mark plan.

Emmett Berry was program chairman and he gave the local men a lively session for a brief period, with fines being imposed here and there with frequency. The chairman presented Dorothy Earley, of Orange, in a piano solo and the Wallace sisters of La Habra in a group of duet numbers on steel guitars. The children performed creditably and to the delight of the big number of men present. O. T. Stephens, president of La Habra club, presided over a portion of the meeting.

PIONEER DIES

Mrs. Sarah Thurston, resident of Orange county for more than half a century, died at her home in Tustin yesterday.

RESIDENT OF ORANGE COUNTY 58 YEARS DIES

Mrs. Sarah Lucy Thurston, who passed away here yesterday at her home, 810 East Third street, at the age of 87 years, had been a resident of Santa Ana for 32 years and of the county for 58 years. Funeral services will be held Saturday, at 2 p. m., at the Smith and Tuthill chapel.

Mrs. Thurston was the mother of 13 children 11 of whom survive her. They are George W. Thurston, Montebello; Mrs. Sadie L. Byers, Huntington Park; Mrs. C. F. Ward, Colton; Lafayette Thurston, Upland; Joseph S. Thurston, Laguna Beach; Mrs. H. F. Hughes, Laguna Beach; Mrs. Hulda C. Walls, Hawthorne; Mrs. Harriet Buchheim, San Pedro; Mrs. Leurs Korse, Villa Park; Mrs. H. E. Jennings, Santa Ana; Mrs. Ernest Little, Tacoma, Wash., and Mrs. Dick Garland, Santa Ana.

Mrs. Thurston was born in Chester county, Pennsylvania, January 21, 1841, the daughter of Erastus Snow, one of the apostles of the Mormon church and one of two who blazed the trail for the caravan into Utah. Coming with this caravan overland to Salt Lake City at three years of age, Mrs. Thurston, passed her girlhood there and was married to George Washington Thurston, of Littleton, Utah, at Salt Lake City, March 28, 1858.

In 1871, Mr. and Mrs. Thurston came from Utah to California, locating in Aliso canyon, Orange county, in November of that year, just two years after the beginning of Santa Ana. She was the first woman to live in Orange county on the coast between Newport Beach and Capistrano. Mr. and Mrs. Thurston endured many hardships in their pioneer life in Aliso canyon, having to bring their supplies most of the time from San Diego. It was here that they raised a family of thirteen children.

Brothers surviving her are Maroni Snow and Frank Snow, Salt Lake City; George Snow, Los Angeles, and Orson Snow, Huntington Park.

AUTO CRASHES INTO FREIGHT TRAIN: 1 HURT

Lloyd S. Neal, 28, 207 A street, Tustin, suffered minor injuries at 4:05 a. m., today, when the automobile he was driving, crashed into a Santa Fe freight train at the East First street crossing, according to a report filed with the city police.

He was taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital where his injuries, consisting of lacerated knees, were given medical attention. He was then moved to his home.

According to a report made by the railroad company, Neal was driving west on First street and seeing the train at the crossing, swerved off the road, his car striking a box car, which was part of the train. The automobile was badly wrecked.

L. E. Peterson, city police officer, called to the scene of the accident, removed Neal to the hospital.

There is a total of 1,126,000 miles of Bell system transmission wire in the state of Wisconsin.

L. A. BANK WINS COURT BATTLE IN SANTA ANA

The Security Trust and Savings bank, Los Angeles, claiming 4172 depositors in Orange county, and 277 borrowers, to whom it alleges it has loaned over $700,000, had met with success today in the first stage of its court battle to prevent the Security Bank and Trust company from using its name.

The plaintiff, which operates a branch at La Habra, asserts that the defendant organization, whose head office is at Bakersfield, is damaging it and confusing the public through using a name similar to its own.

Superior Judge James L. Allen has issued an order instructing the Bakersfield concern to appear on April 18 at 10 a. m. to show cause why a temporary restraining order should not be made, directing it to discontinue the use of the name and to establish no more branches in California under that appellation.

In the meantime the court has ordered the defendant organization not to "do or permit any of said acts or things pending the hearing and decision of the court."

Monkey Amuck In Vancouver Park

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 12.—A huge monkey, named "Hogan's Alley" by his keepers, terrorized visitors in the Sydney park in Vancouver during a brief period of freedom before he was shot and killed by a park attendant.

During the time that he ran amuck through the park, "Hogan's Alley" severely bit several attendants and park visitors who attempted to capture him.

It was the chill of the evening that finally drove the monkey toward his cage. As he appeared over the top of a roof, he was shot down by a keeper.

During 1927 there was a daily average of 1,618,190 telephone calls over the wires of the Bell system in the state of Wisconsin.

FORMER WOMAN GOVERNOR OF WYOMING TO SPEAK HERE IN INTEREST OF GOV. AL. SMITH

Nellie Taylor Ross, ex-Governor of Wyoming, and one of the two women governors of the 48 sovereign states of the Union is coming to Santa Ana to tell the electors of this state just why, in her opinion, Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York should not only be the Democratic party's candidate but should be elected to the office of president of the United States.

NELLIE ROSS

She will arrive in Los Angeles on the morning of April 16 at 8:30 a. m. and will speak at various points in Southern California. On the night of Tuesday, April 17, she will speak at the Santa Ana city hall. She speaks in Los Angeles, April 19 at Philharmonic auditorium.

Governor Ross has been in demand ,not only by women's clubs and educational institutions, but also by political gatherings. She was the principal speaker at the opening meeting of the National Women's Democratic club at Washington, D. C., last fall and was one of thep rincipal orators at the Jackson day banquet which was held in Washington last January by the National Committee of the Democratic party.

Few persons in public life have been received with such universal acclaim as Governor Ross, and for months past there has been talk in political circles that she is available material for the Democratic nomination for the vice-presidency. Mrs. Ross has made it clear that she is a convinced believer in the prohibition law, but that she believes it should not be made an issue during the coming campaign. As governor of Wyoming in her message to the state Legislature in 1926, she urged that body to enact "a statute that will make it as great a crime to purchase illicit liquor as it is to sell it," and she distinguished herself by being the first governor of the state to exercise the authority of the executive office to remove a sheriff who had failed to enforce the law. With this record of personal and official adherence to Prohibition, she declares, however, that it is not a political issue.

S. A. LEGION POST TO MEET TONIGHT

Entertainment from at least three different cities will be presented to the Santa Ana post, American Legion, at its regular meeting, to be held at the Legion home on Birch street tonight, according to an announcement made today by Ed Kolbe, chairman of the entertainment committee.

The meeting will start with a dinner to be served at 6:30 p. m., by the auxiliary, and a season's pass to any Pacific league baseball game will be presented to some member of the post, it was announced. The pass is a present to the post from President Williams of the Coast league.

Almost 100 new members taken into the post during the February and March membership drive are expected to be present tonight for the first time.

ORANGE COUNTY MEN RALLY AT HOOVER DINNER

LOS ANGELES, April 12.—What Orange county will do for Herbert Hoover on May 1 was the theme of the rally luncheon conducted at Republican headquarters here today. It was Orange county day with delegations from the the leading cities of the southern county as guests of honor.

The principal speakers at the affair were Orange county men who described the progress already made and that planned before the presidential primary election.

Among the things cited by the speakers were increased registration, particularly by women; the prevailing dry sentiment which has been aroused by the possibility that Secretary of Commerce Hoover will be opposed next November by a wet Democrat; and the organization of Hoover campaign clubs throughout the county.

Included among the Orange county speakers were Justus Craemer, Orange publisher; S. C. Hartranft, former assemblyman; A. V. Douglas, La Habra publisher; N. T. Edwards of Orange and F. C. Drumm, former superior court judge.

It was Judge Drumm who sounded the keynote of the day with an appeal for intensive work. He declared that the fact that Mr. Hoover is unopposed in California should in no wise lessen the effort of those who favor his candidacy.

Judge Drumm declared Mr. Hoover is to be the best qualified candidate of either party for the presidency. He described the early life of Mr. Hoover and how it prepared him for the service which he has given the nation. He described the requirements that the presidency makes upon a man and declared that Mr. Hoover is ideally prepared for the nation's highest office.

"This country needs a trained executive as president," Judge Drumm declared. "Herbert Hoover is a trained executive and will make one of the best presidents this country has ever had."

William M. Garland and John R. Quinn, two of California's delegates to the Republican National convention, were introduced at the meeting. Other speakers included Earl Jensen, director of public institutions; George Coffin, prominent Hollywood realtor; Mrs. Ida R. Koverman, secretary of the Southern California Hoover-for-President club, and J. R. Gabbert, Riverside publisher.

STANFORD MEN OF SANTA ANA BOOST HOOVER

A Stanford Hoover club entered the field in Santa Ana today and launched a movement to unite all local men and women from that institution into an organization which will endeavor to bring the presidential nomination to the secretary of commerce.

A group of 20 Stanford men met yesterday at Ketner's cafe and pledged their support to Hoover as the new club got under way.

J. B. Tucker, local attorney, was elected president of the club and issued a call to every resident of Santa Ana who is or has been affiliated with Stanford to become a part of the organization as a means of advancing the candidacy of Hoover.

The body will co-operate with the Hoover club already existing here and will aid in giving that group additional impetus in voicing the demand of Republicans here for placing their candidate in the White House, it was announced.

Stanley Goode, realtor, was elected vice president. Franklin G. West, attorney, was chosen to fill the office of secretary, and David B. Carmichael, insurance man, was made treasurer. Tucker announced the appointment of an executive committee as follows: T. E. Stephenson, Rex Conant, Rex Kennedy, G. K. Scovel and Milburn Harvey. Herbert L. Miller, H. S. Buchkam and Jud House were maned to form a publicity committee.

In the belief that there may be additional Stanford men and women in here who favor the nomination and election fo Hoover, but who have not affiliated with any organization working in the campaign, West broadcast an invitation to them to line up with the local Stanford Hoover club by communicating with him. Blanks for registering as members will be provided on request, he said.

DISCUSS AIR CLUB JUNIOR DIVISION

The possibility of forming a junior division of the Santa Ana Air club was discussed last night when members of the organization gathered at the Finley hotel for a business meeting. A committee which included Eddie Martin, Jack Colvin and Hap Russell, was appointed to ascertain the interest such a movement would create among young men who would be eligible as members.

It was decided that should the junior division be organized a worth while course of study would be adopted in order to give the members a true understanding of aviation and its relation to the community.

T. C. Peterson and Millard Boyd were appointed to a committee to investigate several courses under consideration.

It was decided that the next meeting which will be held Wednesday night, April 25, 8 o'clock, should be an open one. At that time all questions on aviation will be answered. Among questions which will be answered will be the oft-heard one regarding air pockets.

JULIA LATHROP FATHERS AND SONS TO DINE

Baseball will be featured tomorrow evening in the program arranged to follow the Julia Lathrop Father and Son banquet to be held at 6:30 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A.

A chicken dinner will be the first event of interest, and at its close Harold Lutes will play a clarinet solo accompanied by Earl Motley. Jack Belding, president of the I. X. L. club, under whose auspices the affair is presented, will give the first toast, followed by one by Malone Holmes, "First Base." After a reading by Harry Appling, Frank Massey will offer the toast, "Second Base."

Music by the Harmonica club will be featured, and the remainder of the program will consist of the toasts, "Third Base," by Arthur McBride; "Home Run," by George Holmes; "Fly" by Jack Pegues; song group by the Boys' chorus; toast, "Back-Stop," Dr. Motley; duet, Gale Smith and Wilbur Vinson.

Toast, "Outfield," Mr. Beeman; two vocal numbers, Robert Brown; toast, "Double Play," Mr. Nelson. A new book of songs is just off the press for the event and will be an interesting feature in adding jollity to the occasion.

DR. KNIGHTS TO SPEAK SUNDAY IN S. A. CHURCH

Dr. George D. Knights, field secretary of the University of Redlands, will be in Santa Ana next Sunday to preach at the First Baptist church at both morning and evening services. Mrs. Knights will accompany him, and they will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Effie Crawford in Tustin.

Dr. Knights was for 15 years pastor of the First Baptist church of Long Beach, resigning a year ago to accept the position with the University of Redlands. When he left the Long Beach church it had a membership of 1500 and is recognized as one of the foremost Baptist churches in the state, according to local Baptist leaders. Dr. Knights has been intimately connected with the University of Redlands from its founding in 1909. In the development of the school Santa Ana Baptists have had a large part, and from time to time large gifts from members of the local Baptist church have been made to the institution. Santa Ana has also contributed largely to the student body, several members of the Baptist church here being now in attendance. Mr. J. J. Harrison, a trustee of the local church, has been for several years a trustee of the university and active in its affairs.

Dr. Knights will speak at the morning service next Sunday on "Divine Alchemy." His evening topic has been chosen with special reference to the student population of Santa Ana and vicinity, and to the friends of youth: "Today's Challenge to Youth." During his long ministry at Long Beach Dr. Knights was notably successful in his work with young people, according to acting Pastor Burlingame of the local Baptist church; and is a fascinating and cultured speaker.

COUNTY P.-T. A. TO HOLD MEET AT BUENA PARK

BY MRS. NEAL BEISEL
Fourth District Press Chairman

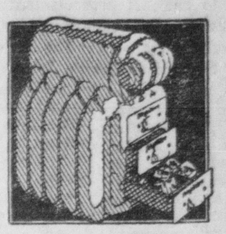

The program prepared for the annual convention of the Fourth District, Congress of Parents and Teachers, to be held in Buena Park Saturday, promises to be unusually instructive and worth while. In addition to the election of officers for president, recording, corresponding and financial secretaries, there will be presented an amendment to the constitution which will provide for a return to the former number of two vice presidents instead of seven under the present system. It is felt that this action will eliminate much duplication of effort in many branches of the work in the county.

The morning session will present two speakers of note, Edwin Price, state chairman of social standards, who will speak on the work of his department, and Dean Boyce, of the Fullerton junior college, who will speak on "The Place of the Junior College in the Educational System."

At noon sandwiches and coffee served by the hostess committee will replace the customary pot-luck luncheon, leaving both delegates and hostesses free to enjoy the program to the utmost.

In the afternoon, following election of officers at 1:15-2:00 o'clock, Mrs. Ercel McAteer, state chairman of motion pictures, will speak on how to judge good and bad motion pictures, with their relation to the emotional life of the child. The speaker will be aided in her talk by most interesting charts and films presented to the audience by the aid of the projector recently installed in the school.

FLOOD CONTROL COMMITTEE MEETS WITH SUPERVISORS TO HEAR DAM SITE REPORT

Following the announcement that Donald J. Dodge, of Costa Mesa, has been appointed to represent that district on the citizens' advisory committee on flood control, the group met with the board of supervisors yesterday to consider progress that has been made in dam site surveys in the Santa Ana canyon under the direction of Paul Bailey, water conservation engineer. The appointment of Dodge was made on a motion by Supervisor George Jeffrey.

Bailey stated yesterday that he believes an earth dam in the Santa Ana canyon would be the safest and cheapest he has ever known. Present indications, he said, cause him to believe that such a structure would have a resistance against sliding and sloughing which would be 10 times as great as the pressure and water load it would have to carry.

The following report on investigations in the canyon was accepted by the supervisors and advisory group:

"The exploration of foundations at the most favorable damsites in the lower canyon of the Santa Ana river continues. A second rig has been placed in the field in order to secure greater progress. One rig is now drilling at the Chester site near the head of the canyon and the other at the Santa Ana site in the vicinity of the canal intake of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company. The cross-section on which the rig at the Santa Ana site is now working is about 4000 feet downstream from the intake of the canal. So far, holes at both of these sites have penetrated clay shale beneath the loose sand on the canyon floor.

Samples Obtained

"The samples obtained to date at the Chester site are more uniform than those at the Santa Ana site some of which contain sand or mica in various amounts. Samples from both sites absorb water when immersed resulting in the breaking down of the physical structure. The residual fine grained clayey mass of the samples at both sites after the structure breaks down is of a character that would form a highly impervious layer. Apparently such layers have formed on the surfaces of the shale beneath the loose sands and gravels of the canyon floor and protect the formations from further disintegration because the holes on the banks of the river indicate that water has not penetrated the underlying formation at either site although it is under a water pressure of 40 feet or more. Physical and chemical tests will be made of samples after drilling has progressed further in order to establish the behavior of the underlying formations if a dam were constructed over them.

"The ideal design of an earth-fill dam would build the upstream part of the cross-section of impervious materials in order to resist the water under reservoir pressure from percolating into the dam. On the other hand, the downstream part of the cross-section would be constructed of pervious material so that water that enters the dam may have an easy egress. This plan of construction makes it impossible for the entire cross-section of the dam to become saturated and protects it from danger of sloughing on the downstream face. Further protection from saturation and sloughing may be obtained by constructing a water-tight cut-off extending from the top of the dam down into an impervious underlying formation. Still further insurance against the weakening of the dam section through saturation may be obtained by placing a drainage system under the downstream half of the dam.

Ideal Plan

"Fortunately the materials necessary for following this ideal plan of construction are present in abundance in the Santa Ana canyon. The sands, conglomerates and shales disclosed by the geologic investigations offer an unusual wealth of materials for the construction of a dam of the earth-fill type employing the foregoing principles. It is a matter of study of the qualities of the many strata and formations to lay out a construction program that will secure the safest dam with the least expenditure. The coarse sand in the river bottom is a material very pervious and exceedingly easily drained. Granular and practically free from earthy material, it has a high resistance against sliding. This offers an excellent material for the center and downstream part of the dam. It has a further advantage in that it can be placed in the dam cheaply by hydraulic process. The conglomerates and shales in the canyon afford excellent materials for the upstream part of the dam. Through the proper selection of these and their sprinkling and rolling as they are placed in the dam, the upstream part may be made highly resistant to percolating water.

"While the proper selection and disposition of the sands, shales and conglomerates found in the Santa Ana canyon would make a strong dam in themselves, it is nevertheless believed that additional strength should be given to plans for construction by including a reinforced concrete cut-off wall extending into the most impervious underlying formation that can be found and connecting this with a reinforced concrete facing covering the entire upstream face of the dam. The wall extending down through the loose sands and gravels of the river bed, should have a thick backing of selected materials similar to those used in the upsteam part of the dam section, thoroughly consolidated in place. As further precaution, a drainage system should be placed under the downstream half of the dam. The top width of such a dam would be about 40 feet and the base width nearly six times its height. With a drainage system underlying the downstream half of the dam and a reinforced concrete facing on the upstream slope connecting with a cut-off wall extending well into the underlying formation, the explorations to date indicate that a dam of a very high degree of safety may be constructed.

"It is probably not essential for a safe dam of the type under consideration for the Santa Ana canyon that a water tight seal be obtained with the underlying formation. Percolating water through or beneath an earth-fill dam is not harmful if its path of travel is sufficiently long to prevent "piping" or if its quantity is too small to saturate the downstream slope of the dam. Water in some quantity percolates under or around nearly every constructed dam. It is only when its velocity of travel or its quantity becomes too large that it impairs their safety. Under the conditions of very considerable depth of loose saturated sand covering the floor of the Santa Ana canyon, a satisfactory cut-off wall will be a large item of expense. Nevertheless, with the promise that the entire coastal plain below the mouth of the Santa Ana canyon will be occupied by residential and industrial areas, it is believed that every precaution for safety should be taken and that a cut-off wall as nearly watertight as possible should be made part of the dam.

"The desirability of securing a high degree of safety in the works of the Orange County Flood Control district, was expressed by your honorable board and committee at the joint meeting in December last as follows:

"'All dams and flood control structures should be laid out primarily for their safety so that the potential residence values in Orange county may develop to their natural limit without fear of a catastrophe that might result from the failure of one of these structures.'

In the endeavor to carry out this policy in the formulation of a construction program to be submitted for your final consideration without making this program unduly costly, every effort is being made to find the type of construction and layout that will take the fullest advantage of conditions and materials at hand in securing the highest degree of safety at a maximum of expense. The engineering investigations have been planned and are being carried out with greater thoroughness than is often times done in order to get the information necessary to do this."

1,000,000 Times a Day
People purchase Sunkist fruit

"Some of those Sunkist Oranges, please."

"Add a dozen Sunkist Lemons to that order."

"I'll take six of these Sunkist Grapefruit."

Thirty-six times each second, two thousand times a minute, over one million times each day, housewives express their confidence in Sunkist fruit when shopping in the markets of the nation.

No other perishable product enjoys such prestige. No other name that stands for fresh fruit has been able to penetrate to the mind of the buying public as effectively as "Sunkist."

Such widespread acceptance is a tribute to the cumulative marketing efficiency of the California Fruit Growers Exchange. It is the magical power which last year enabled Exchange growers to dispose of 50,468 carloads of citrus fruit at the highest prices in history. It is the force which for many years has brought greater average profit to Exchange members.

Carefully controlled shipments—even distribution — constant sales effort — efficient merchandising and advertising methods — the untiring and effective development of new markets — and other services performed by the Exchange, are the industry's best assurance that adequate markets and fair prices can be enjoyed in the future.

But even more could be accomplished—even greater returns could be realized—even larger profits secured —if every citrus grower in California were a member of the Exchange.

Competition is an excellent practice to improve the standard of fruit. The Exchange employs it. But competition in selling means lower prices and less profit for all.

Join the Exchange—become part of it with the 11,000 other grower members who desire to see the entire California citrus crop efficiently marketed through one central growers' organization.

The Exchange is operated by the growers themselves on a non-profit basis. All of its services (including advertising) cost grower members less per box than the sales expense alone of any other citrus marketing organization.

Talk to the manager of the nearest Exchange association or District Exchange. Or write for further information to California Fruit Growers Exchange, Box 530, Station "C," Los Angeles.

WHAT THE EXCHANGE IS...

The California Fruit Growers Exchange is a non-profit organization of 11,000 California citrus fruit growers, producing about 75% of the California citrus crop, operated by and for them on a co-operative basis. Its object is to develop the national and international market for California oranges, lemons and grapefruit, and to provide a marketing organization that will sell the fruit of its members most advantageously and at least expense. Receipts from sales, less only actual cost of operation, are returned to growers. Applications are received through all of the Exchange's 201 local packing associations, 23 District Exchanges or at the central office in Los Angeles.

The fast get-away -- the quick stop -- this grinding wear demands

General's Dual Tread Proper Size Line

WITH PRESENT LOW RUBBER PRICES, what's the use of worrying along with the ordinary tire. Never before has top quality cost so little ~ ~ never so easy to pay for ~ ~ and never has it meant so much.

What other tire has kept pace with the rapid development in motor cars, particularly in the past two years—their higher speed, extra power, quicker get-away, sudden stopping—punishment that tears down the ordinary carcass and grinds off the tread of any tire not built to meet the new driving conditions.

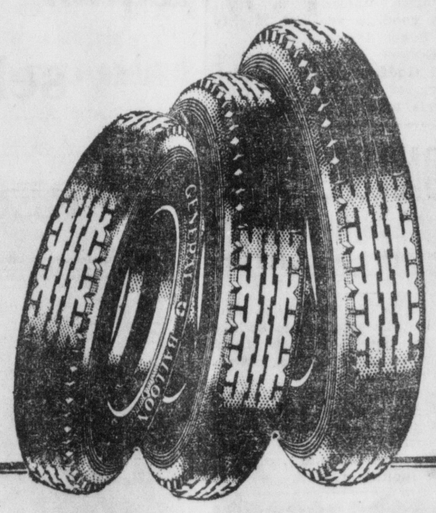

Built bigger and better through and through. Not merely thicker in tread—not merely more rubber on the surface. Even some of the cheaper tires might copy the thickness of the tread, but it isn't only the amount of rubber that counts with General—it's the kind. Not simply more rubber—and more per tire—but more pure rubber.

That is the sort of tire foundation the modern motor car must have for replacement of the original equipment tire lines that have proved too light for the job.

It is the reason for car owners everywhere changing over to the Dual Tread, Proper Size General line, a swing so tremendous that it has carried General to the biggest sales gain in the industry—the only one of the big five tire manufacturers of Akron credited with an actual tire gain during the past season.

When you find such a percentage of the car owners coming to one make of tire it is pretty good evidence that there is one line and one only capable of standing the wear of this new hard-driving era.

The second set of tires must always be better than the first, for it's the second set that finds the wheels out of alignment, brakes needing adjustment, natural wear throughout the chassis that puts additional burdens on the tires. Where the other tire quits, General takes up the job. It carries the handicap that only such Proper Size, Dual Tread quality can carry and still deliver the greatest uninterrupted mileage—two to one over any other tire.

County Night Baseball League Will Open May 11

SANTA ANA TO GET FULLERTON IN FIRST TILT

Setting Friday, May 11, as the date for the fire game, officials of the Orange County Night Baseball association cleared the way for the conduct of their third annual pennant scramble when they went into a huddle at the Anaheim city hall last night.

The representatives even went so far as to draw up a schedule for the first week of play, naming Santa Ana to oppose Fullerton at Fulelrton on opening night. Huntington Beach will go to Anaheim, La Habra to Garden Grove and Olive to Orange.

Personnel of the league will be exactly as it was last summer when Santa Ana captured the title for the second straight year but only after a furious fight with Anaheim. All of the cities except Fullerton were represented either in person or by proxy at the Anaheim poy-wow and it was generally understod that Fullerton is anxious to retain its franchise.

It was announced that the Garden Grove franchise will be taken over by the American Legion post there and that the World war veterans will lay out a new playing field.

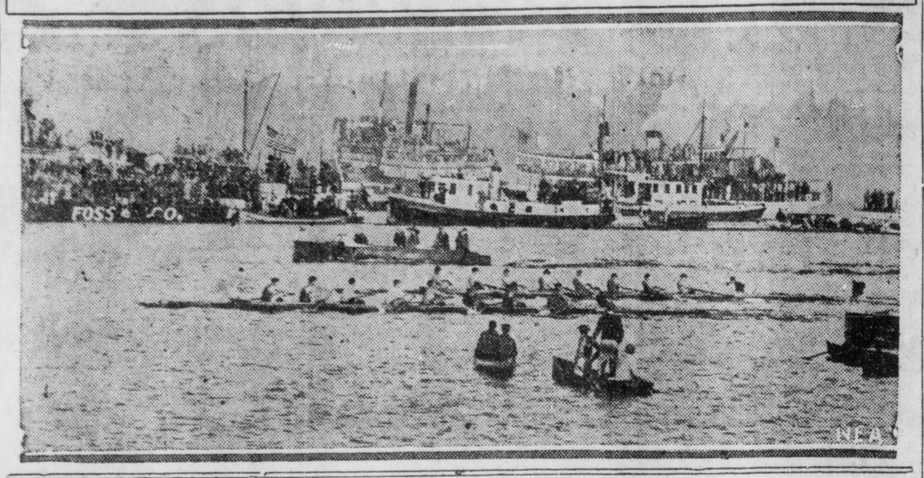

La Habra, enrolled as Brea-La Habra in 1927, will handle all the details by itself this summer.

Victor Baden, popular Orange sportsman and athletic director, was re-elected president of the circuit. Baden had many perplexing problems to deal with last year but he took care of them all so satisfactorily that the league would have nothing but that he remain in office. Eddie West, of Santa Ana, was named vice-president. Jimmie Heffron, Anaheim sports scribe, was elected secretary-treasurer, an office that he occupied with grace last term. West was delegated to draw up an official schedule.

John Wilcox, business manager of the Santa Ana All-Stars and "Eeny" Wilcox and Horace Snow represented Santa Ana at the meeting.

FINISH OF WEST'S GREATEST CREW RACE

Here's the finish of one of the most thrilling varsity crew races ever held in the west—University of California's half-length win over the Washington Huskies on Lake Washington, Seattle. Though Washington sprinted, California's power was sufficient to carry the Bears to a win.

J. C. TRACKMEN IN DUAL MEET AT FULLERTON

Although the annual Southern California Junior College conference met is a matter of history, several more important competitive dates will require the attention of Santa Ana's Dons during the coming weeks.

Bill Cook's henchmen will close their dual meet campaign tomorrow against Fullerton at Fullerton and te scoring should be close, Fullerton boasting a number of athletes capable of piling up an annoying number of points.

The Dons have been officially invited to send a team to California State Junior College meet which will be held on the track at Stanford university May 3 and indications are that the leading lights of the local college will be sent to this classic.

Previous to this, however, Santa Ana will ave representatives at a meet at Riverside April 21 between te powerful Los Angeles Athletic club and a squad of all-stars, recruited from the campuses of all the junior colleges in Southern California, as well as the annual Raisin Day relay carnival and track meet at Fresno April 28.

Issue Appeal For Crew Candidates

An appeal for candidates for an Orange county crew was issued today by Paul Gustlin, manager, who hopes to organize several teams to compete with San Diego rowing clubs this summer. Practice will be held at 304 Fernando street, Balboa, beginning next Sunday at 11 a. m. Efforts will be made to work out on Wednesday afternoons also.

Six shells, two in first class condition, have been furnished the crew by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce.

Hal Holtz, U. S. C. alumni, has agreed to coach the candidates.

JACK DEMPSEY RESIGNS FROM RINGDOM AGAIN

NEW YORK, April 12.—"I'm definitely through," Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, said today. "Under no circumstances will I fight again."

Dempsey came here from the west coast for the trial of the Jack Kearns suit.

"I have my health now," Dempsey said, "and I intend to keep it. It might be dangerous for me to fight again and I'm not taking any chances. Of course, I'll consider vaudeville contracts and other ways of making money."

HAL COX GIVEN CLOSE VERDICT IN DELHI BOUT

Hal Cox, undefeated Pacific Coast middleweight champion among the amateurs, added another victory to his long string when he gained the decision over Young Fraser, of Hawthorne, at the Ellis "barn" last night.

Cox had the narrowest squeak of his career and the bout could easily have been called a draw, if such a verdict were permissible under the ametur rules. Cox had a good margin in the last round but the other three could have been either fighter's depending on the judgment of the spectator.

Cox bore in constantly and that may have had a beneficial effect on the imagination of the judges and the referee, inasmuch as the decision was unanimous for the popular Los Angeles cleaner and presser.

The Cox-Fraser bout climaxed an evening of splendid entertainment, replete with unpopular decisions.

In the semi-windup, Jimmy Duffy, of Los Angeles, won a decision from Jimmy Osborne in a rather tame bout.

Jimmy Rivers was given the nod over Jack Price of Los Angeles and the anvil chorus suggested in loud tones that the judges hadn't called it right. Rivers came out of the bout unmarked, while his opponent had a bloody proboscis.

The veteran Johnny Hernandez of Anaheim met more than enough in Young Papke jr., of LIos Angeles. Papke unloaded a right that was good to see but mighty hard on Senor Hernandez.

Paul Gomez of Anaheim won from Kid Godfrey of Los Angeles. Amel Pora, of Richfield, won from Ted Harris of Los Angeles.

DON BASEBALL CLUB TO PLAY FULLERTON

Coach Clyde Cook's Santa Ana junior college baseball nine swings into action here tomorrow in a practice game against the Fullerton junior college.

The game is the first in which the team has engaged since practice reopened this week after the spring vacation period. The team will begin its league schedule later this month

HUDKINS BOXES EXHIBITION AT BEACH TONIGHT

BY RINGSIDER

Ace Hudkins, the "Nebraska Wildcat," will make his first and in all probability his last appearance in an Orange county ring tonight when he waltzes through an exhibition bout at the Huntington Beach Amateur Athletic club, 403 Alhambra avenue. As "Nifty" Miller would state, this will be Ace himself, in person,—not a moving picture.

Promoters of the beach pavilion turned in a genuine "scoop" when they obtained the promised appearance of this fistic genius and the sold-out sign is almost sure to be up by the time the first preliminary boys are introduced at 8:30 o'clock.

Huntington Beach bout night ordinarily is Friday but the date was changed this week to accommodate the active Hudkins who sent word that tomorrow would be an impossibility for him.

The "wildcat's" rival has not been announced but "Red" Hamilton, the spokesman for the house, says the man will be a "worthy opponent."

Hudkins

County fandom will be glad to get a first hand impression of this hard-working conqueror of Sergeant Sammy Baker and it will to be their last chance for some time as Ace will go east soon with a probability of meeting either Joe Dundee, for the welterweight title, or Mickey Walker.

The regular main event promises to be a treat in itself as the participants, Johnny Nandez and Eddie Benson, are both well known and well regarded by each customer. Nandez flattened Zenado Chavez his last time out and Benson hasn't been defeated for a long time.

Paul Gomez and Joe Hall, welterweights, collide in the semi-windup.

South Pasadena	0	2	.000

With a very fair chance of improving their current position in the Coast Preparatory league pennant business, Coach Bill Foote will lead his Santa Ana high school baseball club against South Pasadena at South Pasadena tomorrow afternoon.

The Saints have been showing unmistakable signs of emerging from the batting lethargy in which they were mired so long and Foote confidently looks for them to get their bearings this week.

Tigers May Be Troublesome

South Pasadena, however, is not to be taken too lightly as the Tigers would seem to possess a better ball club than their present lowly status in the percentage table indicates. Beaten twice, South Pasadena, nevertheless, has made both its losing games close ones. Against the strong Pasadena team two weeks ago, in their last league combat, the Tigers were defeated only 6 to 4.

Bob Drysdale, who, like Lee Meadows and Carmen Hill, wears "cheaters" when he occupies the rim, will be Santa Ana's starting moundsman, Foote announced definitely today. John Willcutt will be ready for relief if such is necessary although either Wendell Vance or Marvin Johnston could be called on. Upton, a football and basketball star, will pitch for the opposition.

Mel Beatty will be behind the log with Curt Youel at first base, "Red" Cooke at second, Neil Hall at third and Warren Sullivan at short. Captain Orville Schuchardt will be in center field between Bill Dugger, left, and Johnston, right field.

COUNTY TRIALS FOR OLYMPICS TO BE MAY 19

County-wide tryouts for the Junior Olympic games will be held in Santa Ana May 19, Coach Walter Scott, who is in charge of the arrangements, announced today.

Every Orange county high school, the two Santa Ana junior high schools and many of the elementary schools in the county will have entrants. All schools will be permitted to send a champion and runner-up in senior and junior classes, Scott said.

Fifty of the best athletes among the younger boys will be entered in the meet.

Trials to select the athletes who will represent Santa Ana high school are to be held in connection with the regular gymnasium classes, Scott stated. The scores for the pentathlon events are tabulated and the winner determined by the scores.

CASUALTIES IN PRELIMINARIES NOT DAMAGING

Escaping the mid-week preliminaries yesterday with only a few serious casualties, the athletes of Coach "Tex" Oliver's Santa Ana high school track and field squad were more optimistic today as they plunged into the last two days of their preparedness for the fifth annual Coast Preparatory league meet at Long Beach Saturday afternoon.

"Reg" Rust was shut out in his heat of the 220 yard dash and Jimmy Musick, Roger Hearn and Norman Paul failed to qualify in the shot put, pole vault and broad jump, respectively, but for the most part the Saints ran true to form and in a few instances surprised with their display of potentialities.

Little Art Jacques, who has been playing second fiddle to Captain John Moffat in the high jump most of the season, gave the Saint stock an unexpected boost when he cleared, by actual measurement, 5 feet, 10 inches after easily qualifying at two inches lower. Moffat also earned his freight into the finals by getting over 5 feet, 8 inches. The only real upset of the preliminaries occurred in this event as Mitchell, of Alhambra, who tied for first in the 1927 league meet, was unable even to qualify.

"Reg" Rust

After demonstrating his ability to run 23 seconds flat in the 220 in competition several times before yesterday, the big blond sprinter, Rust, was eliminated in the furlong trials in a heat that was won in considerably slower time than he has made.

Musick was off form in the shot and Hearn, suffering from lack of practice, was dropped from the vaulting rolls. Paul, a sophomore, who lunged nearly 21 feet in the dual meet at San Diego, entered the broad

Bowling News

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 12.—The unofficial world's match bowling championship changed hands here when Charlie Daw, recognized as the titleholder the last two years, was beaten by Adolph Carlson of Chicago in a 60-game series. Carlson's margin was 34 pins.

Carlson rolled up 12,753 pins in the 60-game series while Daw scored 12,719.

Entering the final block of 10 games 136 pins behind the Chicagoan, Daw picked up 102, but a split in the ninth frame of the final game cost him whatever chance of victory he had.

Marion Williams, Net Queen, Weds

PASADENA, April 12. — Miss Marion Williams, Southern California women's tennis champion, and Tom R. Williams, of New York, were married here last night. The couple left for the east on a honeymoon tour.

When Earl Sande was set down last fall for rough riding in the Pimlico Futurity it was intimated by his friends that he was ready to abandon the American track and ride in Europe where the weight restrictions on jockeys are not so severe.

It was known that he had received several offers from English and French turfmen that would have been considered a gift of the fates by another jockey and it was understood that Sande felt badly over what he thought was shabby treatment by the Pimlico stewards.

When he went to England at the close of the season it was thought that the American tracks had seen th elast of him in silks, but he came back home, resumed training and was restored to the eligible list by the Maryland officials.

He said a few days ago that he figured on having at least two more good seasons on the American track before increasing weight will force him to retire and when that time comes he is going to move over to the European tracks.

WIDENER BACKS SANDE

There never were any serious doubts that Sande would be restored to good standing by the Maryland officials. He not only had his great reputation for honest and efficient riding with him, but he had behind him the influence of Joseph E. Widener, the big power of New York racing.

Widener made a gesture of protest when Sande was set down, but he did not go too far in complaining against the loss of the star rider of his stable. He knew that Sande's offense was rather flagrant and that to preserve discipline among the other jockeys the Maryland officials hod to show them that Sande couldn't be forgiven always just because he was Sande and a Widener rider.

Numerous complaints had been made during the metropolitan racing season about Sande's tactics, but the boys who charged him with rough riding had to admit the conviction that his motive was the result of nothing but a desperate desire to win.

It always has been understood that Sande was always out to win, and because of the general knowledge that his mounts would be driven to their last ounce of possibility he had the largest following of any jockey on the American tracks.

RESORTED TO TRICKS

His employers never have denied th egenerally believed story that Sande never was given instructions; that is, that he never was told that it would be all right if he didn't win and when he appeared in the parade on a good mount it was taken as gospel that his mount was going to try to win.

Sande got the winning habit when he was making his greatest reputation with the horses in the Rancocas stable. He always had a fine mount and he didn't have to resort to any tricks to win, but when he had the saddle later on horses that were not quite so fleet he began to remember the tricks of the old half-mile circuits where he learned the game.

He considered it was his duty to win and as other boys didn't hesitate to resort to otricks he started doing the same thing, but he was so honest and so open that he was caught and had to be punished.

There is no doubt that his returns to the track will be welcomed because in his game it is refreshing to see a boy inspired by such as serious desire to win

Blindfolded . . . in scientific test of leading Cigarettes, Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt selects OLD GOLD

MRS. REGINALD C. VANDERBILT

"'I wonder if one can really tell the difference, when blindfolded,' was my first thought when invited to make this test.

"After smoking the four brands, as they were handed to me one after another, I discovered there was one that was noticeably smoother than the others and richer in taste.

"This proved to be an OLD GOLD. I hope I shall be able to buy them in Paris . . . they are surprisingly free from any trace of throat irritation and have a delightful aroma which to me is very important."

Gloria W Vanderbilt

How Test Was Made

Mrs. Vanderbilt was blindfolded, and, in the presence of two responsible witnesses, was given one each of the four leading cigarettes to smoke . . . To clear the taste, coffee was served before each cigarette . . . Mrs. Vanderbilt was unaware of the identity of these cigarettes during test . . . After smoking the four cigarettes, Mrs. Vanderbilt was asked to designate by number her choice . . . She immediately replied: "Number 3" . . . which was OLD GOLD.

Why can you pick them in the dark? . . . . . Because they're made from the heart-leaves of the tobacco plant jumping trials despite a severely swollen ankle but the handicap proved too much and he failed to get in with his hop of 18 feet, 11 1-2 inches.

SAINTS REVEAL POWER IN BIG MEET TRYOUTS

Santa Ana made its biggest gesture in the 220 yard low hurdles in which Ernie Velarde, Alvin Reboin and Captain Moffat were all heat winners. Velarde made the best time, 26.2. Moffat and Reboin were both second in their heats of the high hurdles, Moffat being beaten in a 16.7 race that went to McLaughlin, the third member of the dangerous Long Beach timber-topping trio of Bills, Roberts and [illegible]aughlin. The Saints must l[illegible]nto that combination to ha[illegible] chance to win the meet Saturday.

Local javelin throwers who have been improving remarkably under the tutelage of Coach Bill Cook, the former star U. S. C. spearman, all qualified. Melvin Beatty, with a toss of better than 145 feet, led all the competitors and Harmon Howard and Jim Musick were all close behind. Points will not count in this event Saturday but they will in the Southern California and the State Interscholastics.

Velarde's showing in the 100 was a pleasing surprise as the little flash took the measure of Pyle, the Pasadena ace, who had been conceded fourth place. Velarde was second in a heat that was won by Zaun of Glendale, a member of the greatest trio in prep sprinting circles — Wykoff, Slocum and Zaun. Slocum, lame with a pulled muscle, did not enter the preliminaries of the century and ran from a standing position in the 220 but easily qualified. Wykoff won both his heats in the sprints without "bearing down." He is a cinch for first place Saturday.

Ernie Velarde

Joe Warner, Oliver's quarter-mile crack, galloped home a winner in his heat of the 440, the time being 53 seconds. He ran easily through the first half of the chase but was picking 'em up and laying 'em down at the finish. Incidentally, he led Captain Childreth of Long Beach, who is conceded first place in the finals.

Velarde's best in the broad jump was 20 feet, 6 inches and "Red" Cooke made the finals with a leap of 19 feet, 7 inches.

Rust and Warner qualified in the shot put, Rust heaving the bulb 42 feet, 4 inches and Warner getting 41 feet, 8 inches. Rust and Musick will both be in the discus throw finals. Rust threw the platter 115 feet and Musick 109 feet. Reboin vaulted 11 feet and will be a finalist.

ATHLETIC PEER

The peer of America's woman athletes begins training for competition in the Olympic games—Miss Lillian Copeland, University of Southern California coed, who has won national and world championships in the discus, shotput and javelin.

Goitre Not a Disease

Milwaukee Doctor Makes Remarkable Discovery

Milwaukee, Wis.—It has been brought to light by scientific research that goitre is not a disease and is not to be treated as such. Dr. A. A. Rock, Dept. 450, Box 737, Milwaukee, Wis., a prominent goitre specialist for over 24 years, has perfected a different method of treatment for his patients that has proved remarkably successful. This same method is now being used for a home treatment of goitre cases all over the country with astounding results. The doctor states that goitre is a condition which grows worse with neglect and recommends immediate attention no matter how small the growth may appear. He strongly opposes needless operations. Dr. Rock is the author of a book that tells in a simple way about treating goitre at home. He has published this book at his own expense and will send a copy free to anyone interested. Write him today.—Adv.

and with the exception of South Pasadena, all of the other organizations have won and lost one game each.

The Hilltoppers look capable of breezing through to a championship without the loss of a start on the basis of their 17 to 2 triumph over Alhambra, 1927 champions, which turned around two weeks ago, however, and blasted Long Beach, conqueror of Santa Ana, by a 5 to 3 count.

Tomorrow's schedule matches, beside the Saints and Tigers, Pasadena and San Diego at San Diego, Alhambra and Whittier at Whittier, and Glendale and Long Beach at Long Beach.

PYLE DERBY LEADERS SEPARATED BY HOUR

BRIDGEPORT, Okla., April 12.—A margin of little more than one hour separated the two leaders in C. C. Pyle's Los Angeles to New York footrace today.

WASTE WATER, OIL SYSTEM TO BE BUILT SOON

FULLERTON, April 12.—Waste water and oil from the oil fields of Brea, Olinda, East Coyote canyon and Richfield will be cared for under a co-opeartive agreement entered into by 15 major oil companies of the various fields, it was reported here today. The plan to care for the waste water and oil will involve the building of more than 20 miles of gravity sewer mains and the construction of a huge sectional settling pond. The settling pond is to be located near Fullerton. The cost of the improvement will be approximately $200,000, it is reported.

Contracts have been let to the Waste Water Disposal company for the construction of the settling pond and the sewer lines. The lines to be built will connect with all the oil field districts in the northern part of Orange county. An agreement has been reached between the oil companies and eight cities which own a sewer disposal system emptying into the ocean near Newport Beach that the clear water taken from the settling pond may be emptied into the sewer line. The consent of state and county health officials was also secured to use the sewer line.

The system will be capable of caring for approximately 25,000 barrels of waste water per day, it is believed, but the amount is not expected to average 10,000 barrels per day at present.

The settling pond will be 450 by 170 feet. It will occupy a five-acre site and will be equipped with pumps, tanks and other operating equipment.

Laguna Artist Is Speaker At Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 12.—The Woman's club held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at which time Mrs. Hardigan, chairman of art, presented Ida Randall Boalls, an artist of Laguna Beach, who gave a talk on art appreciation. Twenty of her own oil paintings of California scenes were on exhibition. Many of these beautiful pictures were marine scenes.

The speaker stated that America is developing a distinctive art in industry that will be comparable to the beautiful and ancient art of China. There is more color and artistry in even the most commonplace articles of manufacture in America today than in those of any other country she said. SHORT NOW SHORT $100 FOR SPEEDING

Short "stepped on it" again. Officed C. F. Eifler, patrolling Corona Del Mar, chased Short almost to Laguna Beach before he caught and stopped him for the second time. Eifler handed Short a ticket charging him with speeding 60 miles per hour.

When he appeared in court the long and short of the matter was a $25 fine on the 48-mile charge and a $75 fine on the 60-mile charge.

HISTORY AND IMPORTANCE OF BOULDER DAM TOLD BY SPEAKER AT BEACH MEETING

NEWPORT BEACH, April 12.—The history and importance of Boulder dam was told members of the Exchange club yesterday by S. C. Evans, of Riverside, executive officer of the Boulder Dam association. All of the important steps in the fight for the dam and the controversies which are now being waged over it were explained in detail by the speaker. The meeting was held at the Southern Seas club.

The site of the dam is at Black canyon, about 20 miles up the Colorado river from Boulder canyon, the speaker stated. He declared that the river has been under investigation by the federal government since the Civil war, and many detailed reports have been made. The need of a high dam was stressed by the speaker.

He spoke of conditions in Imperial valley, of the immense amount of money which is spent annually by the ranchers of that district and of the benefits that would be derived from the dam. Ranchers of Imperial valley spend more than a million and a half dollars each year to remove silt from their canals, he said. Sanitary conditions along the Mexican borders are especially bad because of lack of control of the situation, the speaker said.

The future domestic water supply for Southern California and other districts must come from the Colorado river, Evans declared. In his talk, the Boulder Dam association officer told of the reasons why Arizona was opposing the present Swing-Johnson bill. He declared that Arizona raised the power question and wished the dam built by private capital so that it could be taxed. The state of Arizona has built other dams within its boundaries with government money, he reported, but does not want the Boulder project financed by the government.

One of the main reasons for the long time necessary to secure legislation on the matter in Washington is that eastern people do not understand the magnitude of the west, Evans stated. He asserted that Mexico has no legal or moral right to any water from the Colorado river and never did have.

More than a dozen visitors were present at the meeting yesterday. The Exchange club will change its meeting place in the near future and a committee composed of J. P. Greeley, Fred Crosier and W. L. Jordan was named to select a new meeting place. Final arrangements were also made for the meeting next Wednesday night at the Southern Seas club, when women will be guests of the club.

C. H. Way and Steve Smith were appointed on a committee to arrange a baseball game with the Costa Mesa Lions club. Eugene Fenelon, E. B. Whitson and G. C. Macleod were named delegates from the loca' club to the state convention to be held at Fresno.

A welcome was extended to Ed Moore, new member of the club.

SPEEDING HIT BY S. A. JUDGE IN LIONS TALK

ORANGE, April 12.—Since the institution of the 40-mile speed limit, the death rate has mounted in the state of California, Judge K. E. Morrison, of Santa Ana, declared in a talk on "Traffic Violations" before the Lions club at the regular meeting her yesterday.

Many of the statements made by the speaker were based on personal observation and from statists compiled by investigation.

Traffic officers, Judge Morrison declared, are agreed that the 40-mile limit has had disastrous results and that persons driving at 40 miles on the highway very often continue at a high rate of speed when entering a 20-mile one, usually slowing down to 30 or 25 miles an hour.

Regarding four wheel brakes, Judge Morrison said that a person with four wheel brakes depended too much on the stopping ability of the brakes and as the brakes were often out of adjustment, the stopping ability was often not up to par. This fact is being recognized, the judge declared, and at the present time the same insurance rate is being applied to the four wheel brake system as to the two wheel brake, when a short time ago the four wheel brakes were given a lower rate. Some insurance companies, he said, are considering making the rate higher for cars with four wheel brakes.

In states where the traffic laws are not strict and where they are not enforced, the death rate is from 50 to 100 per cent higher han in this state, the said. Florida kills one person to every 500 cars, he stated, while California kills but one person to every 972 cars.

In checking up the accidents that have occurred during the past year in Southern California, Judge Morrison said he had found that 81 per cent occurred on straight highways and that 65 per cent were due to speed alone.

URGE EDUCATION FOR WINDBREAKS

VILLA PARK, April 12.—That educational rather than legislative methods should be used in encouraging windbreaks was the recommendation of a committee appointed to report to the Villa Park Farm Center at the regular monthly meeting at the Villa Park school here last night.

The committee, consisting of H. D. Nichols, K. V. Wolff, of Olive, and Willard Smith and Clyde Watson has had the matter under consideration for the past month.

In the absence of the president of the center, Clyde Watson, the vice president, John Ragan, of this place, presided. Speakers during the evening were Willard Smith and K. V. Wolff. A matter for general discussion was the discontinuance of the train carrying fertilizer to the side track of the Santa Fe at Olive. No action was taken on this matter but in a few days a committee will be appointed to investigate the matter and to bring a report before the center.

Santa Ana Writer Is Well Received in New York

Miss Robert Ethel Phillips has returned to the home of her brother, Ernest Crozier Phillips, 909 South Ross street, after an extended stay at the Phillips summer home, "Chaparral," at Arch Beach, where she was resting after a strenuous month in New York followed by a month of intensive work at the Cumnock school in Los Angeles, where she has long been a member of the staff of teachers.

Her friends have been warmly interested in the success which Miss Phillips has met in the writing world, for her trip east was for the annual Writers' Matinee at the Waldorf in New York City, where she read her own poetry. The afternoon had a pleasant sequel, for she was asked to read her poetry for the New York Women's Press club at its semi-annual "poetry symposium," and followed this appearance with five recitals before professional groups in Princeton, New Jersey.

Santa Anans will recall that one of the first recognitions of Miss Phillips' ability as a writer, came two years ago when Dr. J. D. Spaeth of Princeton university, gave a special lecture at University of California at Los Angeles, on "Poetry of Robert Ethel Phillips and Beulah May." Miss May is also a Santa Anan whose writings are meeting with pronounced success.

ELEANOR YOUNG ELLIOTT

The WOMAN'S DAY
by ALLENE SUMNER

A little 10-year-old girl of Cleveland was stopped by a downtown movie house doorman the other day. The small one had no ticket. Investigation revealed that Sylvia had seen more than 3000 movies in her brief little life without ever paying a cent for them. She readily revealed her method to juvenile court authorities. "I always went in behind big fat men and ladies with big fur coats on," she explained. Sylvia has done her One Eyed Connolly stuff about a half dozen times a week for the past five years, it seems.

SHE'S NATURAL RESULT

Sylvia is an outstanding example of the ingenuities, independence, slickness and pioneering spirit in most all modern youth. All modern education leads to the Sylvia result. We teach your youngsters to "work on their own," and when the inevitable result comes, make quite a to-do and turn the Sylvias over to juvenile courts. Is it possible that modern education needs to devote its attention somewhat to the problem of developing a little less resourcefulness, ingenuity and utter fearlessness on the part of our children, at least, a little respect for property and authority rights? To put it bluntly, modern kids are getting too "darned bright and cute" to be palatable.

CAMILLA WANTS ESCORT

It mus come as a shock to garden variety girls to learn that even beautiful famous ladies meet with the universal problem of procuring male companionship. For instance, Camilla Horn, considered by many the most beautiful woman on the screen, says that she can hardly wait til her husband comes from abroad so that she can go to dances "and things."

"I really know only two men," says this blonde lady. "One of them is nice but a poor dancer and the other is a good dancer but not so nice. So Camilla stays home for the time being."

LIFE'S NICETIES
Hints On Etiquette

1. Should a wife accept her husband's courtesies as her due?
2. What should be her manner in receiving them?
3. Is an occasional word of high praise always an incentive for a man to be even more courteous?

THE ANSWERS

1. Yes.
2. She should acknowledge all his courtesies tactfully and graciously.
3. It is likely to be.

THE TINYMITES
STORY by HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES by KNICK

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

(Read The Story, Then Color The Picture)

The Tinymites heard Clowny shout, "We've rushed so much I'm tired out. Our little pork chop friends have gone. Now, what are we to do? If you ask me, I think it best that we all take a needed rest. The hillside's very pretty, and the sky above is blue.

"It isn't going to rain, I'll bet, and we'll be safe and not get wet if we just spread out on the grass and drink the fresh air in. I wish someone was here to keep watch over us in case we sleep. I guess, however, this is quite the safest place we've been."

"Oh, sure," cried Coppy. "Have no fear. Our butcher friend is some place near. He will not let us come to harm. I feel quite sure of that. Before I rest I think I'll try to get a drink. A stream's nearby. If we can't find a cup I'll dip some water with my hat."

So to the little stream they went and 'bout a half an hour was spent in playing 'round the water's edge. The Tinies drank their fill. Then Scouty cried, "Come, follow me back to the shade of yonder tree, and we will sprawl out on the ground. 'Twill really be a thrill."

They all floped down and thought it grand, and snoozed their way to slumberland. The butcher came and saw them, and then turned and walked away. "They're comfortable as they can be. I'll simply let them rest," said he. "And, later on, when they wake up, they'll all be set to play."

'Twas said the butcher hadn't heard the coming of a monstrous bird. It swooped down on the Tinymites, and eyed them for a spell. And then it grabbed wee Clowny tight, and with him flew right out of sight. The other Tinies then woke up and all began to yell.

(Clowny has a queer experience in the next story.)

BREAKFAST — Sliced bananas and oranges, cereal, cream, crisp broiled bacon, cornmeal pancakes, maple syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON — Crema of corn soup, popcorn, eggs stuffed with beet greens, rhubarb whip, milk, tea.

Rhubarb Whip

One cup cooked rhubarb, sugar, whites 3 eggs, 1-8 teaspoon salt.

If the rhubarb was baked with sugar more sugar will not be necessary but if the rhubarb was stewed and is quite juicy more sugar will be needed. Rub fruit through a sieve and add sugar if necessary. Heat and fold in the whites of the eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Turn into a buttered baking dish, place in a large pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until firm to the touch. It will take about forty minutes. Serve with a soft or "boiled" custard sauce made with the yolks of eggs.

Makes Your Skin Twice As Lovely

Good Old-Fashioned Buttermilk Best for Complexion—Inexpensive, Too.

Woman today in her mad scramble for beauty has overlooked one of the simplest yet one of the most marvelous beautifiers the world has ever known and it comes right out of Mother Nature's own generous hand, too—plain old-fashioned buttermilk.

If you haven't tried it, there is a genuine thrill in store for you because the difference it make in your skin is almost unbelievable.

You can get the real old-fashioned buttermilk combined with a wonderful cream if you ask your druggist for Howard's Buttermilk Cream. Just give yourself a gentle massage with it tonight for a few minutes—that's all that's necessary. Buttermilk supplies all those properties you usually have to buy a dozen or more creams in order to get; it nourishes and invigorates the skin, it is a gentle astringent that tends to reduce enlarged pores and leaves the skin ready for powder.

The first trial will absolutely change your whole idea about creams, but if you aren't satisfied—your druggist will refund your money.—Adv.

AT THE THEATER

WEST COAST-WALKER

Crooks and lovers, melodrama and comedy, thrills and laughter, all combine to make "Partners in Crime," now playing at the West Coast-Walker, an entertainment masterpiece.

In this Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton team comedy, Paramount has moulded every element that makes a picture worth going miles to see. "Knife" Reagan and his gang, with the dud detective and the fresh reporter, will find a warm reception wherever they go for they portray the stuff that makes the heart beat faster and the laugh muscles ache from exercise.

WEST END THEATER

There is something new under the sun and that is the portrayal of the role of Diane by Janet Gaynor in "7th Heaven," which is showing at the West End.

The flower-like charm of this young actress is something new, appealingly refreshing and spiritually beautiful. Words can not describe the winsomeness of her tear dimmed smile, her happy laugh or the manner in which she shows her spiritual growth from a cringing street waif to a woman fearless in the face of appalling danger and who meets the worst that life threatens to offer unflinchingly.

PRINCES THEATER

In "Ben-Hur," the film playing at the Princess theater, a really astonishing miracle is attracting much attention. It is the Star of Bethlehem, first a mere point of light and gradually increasing in splendor till its glory fills the heavens of the eve of Christ's nativity. This effect was devised by Ferdinand Earle, an art director, who has become a specialist in photographic creations.

ORANA PLAYERS

"Valley Center," a homey play of the rural type is playing all this week at Orana. In the play are C. William Booth, Maryeda Green, Mercedes Lowrie, Herbert M. Shelley, Billy Evans, Austa Pierce, George Mathison and Paul Racon. The Orana Players broadcast over KWTC, the Santa Ana station, from 6 to 6:45 o'clock tonight.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

The Yost Broadway presents Al Jolson in "The Jazz Singer"—on the Vitaphone!

In this statement lie two events of real moment. First, Jolson is probably the world's most popular entertainer. He can sway an audience, with his mammy songs, his haunting, wailing, jazz, his "April Showers" and "Blue Skies," and the rest, as few living actors can.

The second fact worth mention is that Vitaphone registered his voice and his vivid personality with such startling reality as to seem uncanny. Jolson sings six songs during the exciting course of "The Jazz Singer." There are two mentioned above, and "Toot, Toot, Tootsie," "Dirty Hands, Dirty Face," "Mother o' Mine," and the moving song, "Kol Nidre."

Cantor Josef Rosenblatt, supreme among cantors, sings the sacred "Yahrzeit," and the cast includes such screen favorites as dainty May McAvoy, who helps the runaway cantor's son to the fame and fortune which he craves; Warner Oland, who plays the father and Eugenie Besserer as mother.

TEACHERS GIVEN 10 COMMANDMENTS

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The Ten Commandments for school teachers have been issued by the bureau of education of the interior department.

The commandments abound in cheerfulness and hold the doctrine that an even temperament has much to do with the teacher's ability to maintain her position and condition of health.

They are as follows:

1. Thou shalt have other interests besides thy schoolroom.
2. Thou shalt not try to make of thy children little images, for they are a live little bunch, visiting the wriggling of their captivity upon you, their teacher, unto the last weary moment of the day; and showing interest and co-operation unto those who can give them reasonable freedom in working.
3. Thou shalt not scream the names of thy children in irritation, for they will not hold thee in respect if thou screamed their names in vain.
4. Remember the last day of the week, to keep it happy.
5. Humor the feelings of thy children that their good will may speak well for thee in the little domain over which thou rulest.
6. Thou shalt not kill one breath by stirring endeavor in the heart of a little child.
7. Thou shalt not suffer any unkindness of speech or action to enter the door of thy room.
8. Thou shalt not steal for the drudgery of many "papers" the precious hours that should be given to recreation, that thy strength and happiness may appear unto all that come within thy presence.
9. Thou shalt not bear witness to too many "schemes of work," for much scattered effort is a weariness to the soul and a stumbling block to weary fingers.
10. Thou shalt laugh—when it rains, and wee, woolly ones muddy the floor, when it blows and doors bang, when little angels conceal their wings and wriggle, when Tommy spills ink and Mary flops a tray of trailing letters; when visitors appear at the precise moment when all small heads have forgotten everything you thought they knew.

And again I say unto you, laugh, for upon all these commandments hang all the law and the profits in thy schoolroom.

VISIT PARENTS

ORANGE, April 12.—Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Bleecker, of San Diego, spent Tuesday night with Mrs. Bleecker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. McBride, of 736 East Washington street. Mr. and Mrs. Bleecker drove to Sawtelle yesterday to attend the funeral of Mr. Bleecker's grandfather, a Civil war veteran.

NAME WINNERS OF ESSAYS IN CLEANUP DRIVE

Winners in the school essay contest on the beautification campaign now in progress here, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce were announced today by Ridley Smith, chairman of the clean-up committee.

Contestants were divided into elementary and junior high school divisions. Hazel Hart of the Julia Lathrop junior high, was declared winner in that division, while Donna Petterson, of the Jefferson school, was adjudged winner in the other group.

Hazel Hart, in her essay, outlines the dreams of Father Junipero Serra, of California's missions and tells how he planned to make this section a place of beauty.

"Can't we all work together . . . to make and keep Santa Ana such a place of beautiful homes, parks and drives that if Father Serra should return he would be pleased that we are carrying out his ideals?" the writer asks.

Donna Petterson's essay declares that "We can make Santa Ana look much nicer if we would keep up the repairs and paint the old houses and also keep the alleys looking nice."

POLY STUDENTS AT PRINT CLUB'S MEET

A group of Santa Ana high school students, Gilbert Campbell, Thomas E. Williams, Ray Mossberg and Willard Francis, attended a printing craftsmen's club meeting, which was held last night in Los Angeles at the Mary Louise tea rooms.

The occasion for the meeting was brought about when it was decided to hold an apprentice night under the auspices of the Frank Wiggins trade school.

Each printer employer took an apprentice with him to the banquet.

The main address of the evening was on "Trade Training and It's Relation to Citizenship" and was made by Howard Compron, principal of the Frank Wiggins trade school.

Other talks were given by various printing house men from Los Angeles firms.

New highs were made by a long list of issues. Corn products soared more than four points to a new record high, while heavy gains were made by other special issues and such stocks as the motors, equipment and foods.

Toward the close profit taking became rather pronounced as a result of fears of a large increase in brokerage loans today.

Traders were estimating an increase of from $80,000,000 to $160,000,000.

WANTED

50 Thousand Skinny Men

The Kind That Will Take Pride In A Manly Figure

How much better a man feels when his weight is normal.

He nearly always has plenty of energy; seldom gets tired and always looks like a real honest to goodness man.

There was an exceedingly thin man in Atlantic City—he was all in, rundown and needed a lot of flesh. He took McCoy's Tablets and within two months wrote that he had gained 28 pounds and felt like a new man.

If you are underweight McCoy's offer ought to interest you.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking 4 sixty cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets at any druggist or any drug store in America.—Adv.

CHICAGO BD. OF TRADE

CHICAGO, April 12.—In another wild and rapid market on the board of trade today, wheat futures again shot sharply higher, adding gains of more than one cent to yesterday's spectacular bulge.

Corn lagged behind all day and during the last hour broke sharply, closing at the day's lowest levels. Oats followed corn's decline with fractional losses.

Final figures:

Wheat 1¼ higher; corn 1 to 1½ lower and oats ¼ to ⅜ lower; provisions closed a share lower.

Wheat receipts were only ten cars and the cash market advanced ½ to 1 cent.

May wheat reached a new high on the advance and deferred deliveries selling at highest prices on the crop cash prices advanced ½ to 1 cent. Corn followed the advance of wheat early in the day but heavy profit taking soon developed and the bulge was killed. Cash market held unchanged.

Reports of freezing damage to new oats gave a firm undertone to that market. Cash oats held unchanged.

AN OPINION ON MR. HOOVER

The national president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union wired Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, asking her opinion of Secretary Hoover's reply to Borah on prohibition. Mrs. Willebrandt has been active in the prosecution of illicit liquor cases. She is known to be a strong supporter of Hoover. Mrs. Boole's wire and Mrs. Willebrandt's reply are well worth repeating. Mrs. Boole's wire follows:

"Only two remaining Republican candidates for President have answered the questionaire submitted by Senator Borah on the subject of prohibition. Questions have come to me as to whether Secretary Hoover's answer is adequate. I understand that you, in whom we have every confidence, have indorsed Mr. Hoover. We would appreciate very much hearing from you the reasons."

Mrs. Willebrandt's reply follows in part:

"In my judgment Mr. Hoover's statement to Mr. Borah is adequate. Answering specifically your inquiry as to why I have indorsed him, I say unhesitatingly I am for Herbert Hoover because, in my opinion, he is the answer to those who say prohibition cannot be enforced. He has spent most of his life doing successfully what the timid or unimaginative said could not be done. In the same constructive way he will tackle the responsibilities which the Eighteenth Amendment have brought to the Federal government. He will work them out without demagoguery, evasions or political barter.

He will go forward to better enforcement with less waste and friction in the legal use of men and money."

This is a fine statement by Mrs. Willebrandt. It expresses her judgment on Mr. Hoover. We believe that Mr. Hoover is trustworthy; that he will uphold the Constitution and enforce the law. At the same time any institution like the Women's Christian Temperance Union or the Anti-Saloon League would probably get greater satisfaction for themselves and for their constituency whom they would advise, by taking it up directly with the candidate and learning from him specifically his own interpretation of what he stated and how he would conduct his office in relation to this cause.

CONGRESS DEFEATS COMBINATIONS BILL

Congress has just defeated a bill which, if it had been enacted into law, would have permitted combinations in this country without violating the anti-trust law. It was a bill granting power to capital to combine for the purpose of importation of essential raw materials including rubber, sisal, and potash. The contention for this measure was that it would give the American manufacturers the opportunity to cope with foreign raw material monopolies, which are either governmentally controlled or directed. They further contended that the American consumer had nothing to fear from the provisions of the bill. The vote on the bill was 180 against and 120 for. Those who opposed it insisted that it would create an opportunity for absolute monopoly and control of raw material purchased by combinations, further that it would tend to enhance prices and leave the small manufacturer at the mercy of the combination. It was also urged that it would discourage new enterprises in the manufacture of articles requiring such raw materials.

There is no question but what some of our institutions are handicapped by combinations which are made abroad. When a government owns its own railroad, it can make certain concessions which will aid exporters, for example, or importers, but which, if made by our railroads in this country, would be a violation of the law and militate against private interests. With all of our jealousy to protect ourselves from monopoly, our general tariff laws have enabled big special interests to develop.

We are not very enthusiastic for legislation which is calculated to prevent the combining of capital for any purpose.

Combinations make for the cutting of overhead and for efficiency and if these combinations militate against the common good it is because of the purpose for which they are used and not the methods of their operation. The natural and sensible course is the practice of economy in any way possible. Laws to prevent this are placing artificial barriers in the way of natural development. The only logical answer is that all of the people in some way or other must own them and control them, rather than individuals or private corporations for personal ends.

INCREASING INTEREST IN CULTURE

The second annual exhibition of art by American physicians was held last week in New York. Three hundred art pieces, works of more than eighty doctors made up the exhibition. The place of honor in the exhibit was given to a group of water colors. Included in the miscellaneous exhibits were a number of hand bound books in embossed and gold mounted leather.

There is a feeling among people in a position to compare the people of the United States with those of Europe that in this country our business is absorbing to the point of excluding all interest in the arts and even in hobbies. This has been attributed by the more charitable to the fact that this country is young in cultural development. But others hold that it is accounted for by the general worship of materialism in this country. The circumstances of this exhibition itself seems to support the former contention. Even more significant is it that there were almost twice as many persons exhibiting in the physicians' art exhibit this year as last year.

There is a growing interest throughout this country in cultural pursuits, in music, the drama, and literature.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST MONOXIDE GAS POISON

The effect of numerous automobiles practically pumping monoxide gas into the atmosphere has been a question of considerable interest and discussion. As numerous cases of deaths have resulted in closed garages, from the inhalation of this deadly gas, it has been contended that a vast number of cars, even in the open air of our city streets, must have a serious deleterious effect upon health.

The United States public health service has just announced the results of analyses made of the air of fourteen of the largest cities of the country. This was done at the peak hours of automobile traffic. The air was found to contain eight-tenths part of carbon monoxide per ten thousand parts of air. Their conclusions were that it is practically negligible, except possibly for the traffic officer.

At the same time, there were more than one hundred deaths in twenty-seven garages in these fourteen cities and the monoxide gas was found to be three times as strong in the garage as in the congested part of the city, while in nearly twenty per cent of the cases there were four parts of carbon monoxide to ten thousand parts of air.

These facts should suggest caution and care in garages. There should be outlets in the roofs of all garages and a limit to the length of time that any engine could be permitted to run inside a public garage.

BATHING BEAUTY CONTEST PASSING

The most beautiful girl this year will be chosen at Atlantic City at a ball instead of a bathing girl parade. The elimination of the parade in bathing suits is the direct result of unfavorable public opinion. Women's clubs and organizations, first in cities near Atlantic City and later in other sections of the country, took action against the beauty contest as conducted.

The Atlantic City hotel men found that it was injuring their business and so the Chamber of Commerce has been at work on some plan which would eliminate the objectionable features of the parade. Unfortunately it appears that the baby parade is also to be eliminated. We cannot quite understand why that is unless the entrants in the baby parade who necessarily stayed at the hotels were also found to injure business. Maybe they were not as cherubic in the hotels as they appeared when on parade.

NOT SO BAD AS HER REPUTATION

Swanson received 408,922 votes for state's attorney in Cook county, Ill. Crowe, who was the main part of the machine, received 288,871 votes. A defeat of the gangster's candidate by a vote of nearly two to one is something of which Chicago and Cook county can well be proud and all of us should remember that even in that crime ridden city decent citizens are in the vast majority.

OUR CHILDREN

By Angelo Patri

"SHE SAID"

It happens now and again that the teacher loses patience with the class and calls them names. Maybe she calls them silly little fools, or worse. That seems to relieve the teacher's nerves and it, for the instant secures the children's attention. They are not accustomed to having the teacher call names at them and their interest is aroused. By and by, if this gets to be a habit of the teacher's, they pay no heed.

One day a boy or a girl feels moody. Perhaps a growing time is upon him, or her, and all sensibilities are tender. The teachers calls the dreaming pupil some hard name. The child goes home and tells the folks that teacher called him so and so.

What? Really? Called you a thing like that? The idea. The very idea of a teacher talking like that. That'll have to be looked into at once. The family's attitude of indignation is balm to the wounded child. He or she nurses his mood and goes off to school in the morning all set for the teacher.

A child has little understanding of the names the teacher calls him. He feels dimly that she is paying him no compliment. That is about all. The grown-ups know what it means to be called a fool, and other things, and because they fear there may be right on the teacher's side are up in arms. Unless they are wise people there is likely to be a lot of trouble, and very little good comes out of it all.

In the first place no teacher ought to call names. It is altogether out of place for a teacher to descend to such a practice. A teacher is mainly engaged in work that calls out all that is good and fine and helpful in children. Nothing good ever came out of a loss of patience, good breeding and dignity. No teacher can justify the habit of calling names.

When a child comes home with the report that this has happened it is wise to say, "Indeed? I expect your lessons were not as good as they might have been? Your conduct was not what it should have been? I hope the teacher will never feel called upon to say such things to you again." Then without fuss or fury call on the teacher and suggest that this is not according to the best teaching traditions.

There is no excuse for calling children names. None at all. But keep this fact in mind when the child comes home with a tale of the injury he suffered through the hard things the teacher said to him. Maybe she smiled when she said it?

In any case, keep calm about the matter. Say as little to the child about it as possible. Keep it between you and the teacher if you can. Try to work with the teacher. If that is impossible, if you prove it so, then talk to the head of the school, calmly, helpfully.

Don't fly into a rage and threaten. That does more harm to your child than calling the names did. Preserve the integrity of the school in the child's mind if it is humanly possible to do so. You care little what anybody says or does save as it affects this child. Interpret him to the teacher and do the same kindness for the child in relation to the school.

Again! The Oracle

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

WHEN IGNORANCE IS BLISS

Time was when I never had seen
A news reel of London's Lord Mayor
Or the smiling Bulgarian Queen,
Reviewing her troops in the Square
Or the march of the Ninety Ninth Regiment Band
On its way to the Grand Central Station,
Or President Coolidge when shaking the hand
Of the dean of the Turkish legation.

I lived on a farm as a child
And my range was exceedingly small,
My time out of school I beguiled
With the tamest of sights—if at all.
And little I dreamed I should ever sit back
In a chair at a movie house, viewing
The prominent people from Nome to Iraq
And the things that they daily are doing.

I have seen Jimmie Walker extend
His hand to the Sultan of Swat,
I have seen Mussolini unbend
When he picked up his kid from its cot.
I have seen Chinese poultry fly out of the coops
Which a ravenous army was raiding,
And millions and millions and millions of troops
Engaged in reviews and parading.

My mind should be eager and keen
From all I have learned from the reel
From many a wonderful scene
In Butte, Luxor, Capetown and Kiel.
I know that the photoplay reels were designed
To educate yokels who view them
To widen the vision and broaden the mind,
But Gosh! How I hate to sit through them!

Dr. Crane's Friendly Talk

By Dr. Frank Crane

FIFTY-FIFTY

It is now proposed that England and America co-operate in connection with a line of dirigibles to cross the Atlantic in forty-eight hours.

An American company is forming to build ships in this country to operate under the American flag, and similar work is going forward in England.

Why wouldn't it be well for other forms of industry to do likewise?

Is it not time to substitute international co-operation for international competition?

Competition is a back number, anyhow. When the United States Steel corporation was formed it was declared that most of its stock was water. That stock is now worth way above par.

Co-operation has immensely outdistanced competition.

New chain stores are constantly forming, for it is found that a chain store system can buy goods for much less than an individual store.

We are getting away from distrust of trusts and discovering that the main advantage in a combination is a saving of waste. War is always expensive and often quite as expensive to the victor as to the vanquished.

The same thing is true of nations.

Perhaps all wars are indirectly caused by trade competition. At least some people are fond of asserting that this is the case.

Why is it not a good time for nations to lay aside their belligerent attitude in regard to matters of commerce and co-operate with one another for the mutual benefit of both?

Reciprocal or favored nation treaties have already been formed between various countries, but they do not go far enough. There is an immense population in France of hard-working, industrious people. There is also an immense population of similar folk in the United States. These two countries ought to be able to get together and for the mutual profit of both peoples join in their commercial enterprises.

Is not a good way to prevent war in the shape of armed conflict some method of preventing war in industry? We have long ago got over the idea in business that the prosperity of one concern is to be measured by the wrecking or failure of other concerns.

The Ford Motor company does not have any especial grudge against the General Motors company, but it is considered that the success of one heightens the probability of the success of the other.

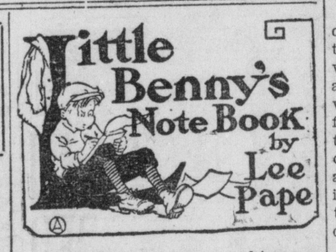

Why could not the same thing hold true with nations? Instead of regarding with envy and distrust the prosperity of another people, why could we not rejoice in it as being an argument for the success of our nation?

Already the United States has many dollars invested in foreign enterprises and surely the safety of our investors rests upon the soundness of those investments. We have an interest in promoting the welfare of the whole world. Whatever will go toward bringing nations closer together commercially will be a new step in advance and toward the promotion of peace and the absence of war.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By Glenn Frank

INVISIBLE GOVERNMENT

The other day I wrote in this place of the way in which the forces of our increasingly technical civilization are feeling their way toward some feasible form or representation at Washington—sometimes by the old-fashioned lobby, sometimes by the new-fashioned Washington headquarters staffs.

Today I unearthed from my files a clipping from The Nation of 1919 that states this case so admirably that I want to pass parts of it on to the readers of this column:

"The framers of our Federal Constitution could not forsee the development of modern industrialized society.

"They could not forsee the shifting of the actual seat of government from executive chambers and legislative halls to banks, stock exchanges, schools, and newspaper offices. . . .

"The real rule of the modern world—the power which makes or breaks a nation, which directs the creative energies of a culture, which determines the development and destiny of a people—is vested in forms economic rather than political. These constitute the invisible government of the old political forms. . . . . The old political forms remain fundamentally unchanged.

"Over against these new economic forms, exercising the real governmental functions of modern society, has grown up in the industrial field a system of organized check and protest, the invisible opposition, as it were.

"This is the political significance of the organization of the workers everywhere during the rapid rise of industrialism; they recognized the necessity of an economic opposition, the inadequacy of the old political forms to furnish a proper check on the new governmental functions (being exercised by forces outside the government).

"If the old political forms could have been made flexible enough to encompass the new economic order, all would have been well . . . But those in control were too selfish or too blind to render the political machinery flexible, to make the invisible government visible and responsible government . . . . and thus they . . . . brought about a fatal division between our political activities and the life processes of our society."

The vast new forces of our technical civilization could be made a mainstay instead of a menace to popular government; but this happy end will never be attained until we act upon a radically new philosophy of politics and industry.

We are today facing a challenge to make changes in our government that will affect the lives of our descendants as profoundly as the establishment of our government affected the lives of our ancestors.

And it will be in the detailed meeting of this challenge that the next creative political movement in the United States will come to life.

Companionate Marriage for them, Hereafter

Fresno Morning Republican

A federal judge in Cleveland the other day gave a great boost to the companionate marriage idea when he sentenced a father and a son, partners in an Ohio pottery works, to two years in Atlanta federal penitentiary. This because the men had undertaken to deceive their wives. The Ancient and Accepted Order of Prevaricating Husbands will all subscribe to the doctrine of Ben Lindsay at once.

Incidentally the father and son lied to the United States government, by way of swearing to a false affidavit of income. But any good lawyer will tell this judge, if the judge does not know it already, that a crime can not consist unless there is a union of act and intent, and the two pottery partners are entirely cleared of any suspicion of intending to cheat the government. Each was divorced, but had successfully deceived his wife in the matter of alimony. Then came along the income tax return to reveal their duplicity. Just as one evil act always leads to another, so in this instance. The return was falsified. But for a wonder, the income tax checkers were more persistent in seeking out the truth than were the wives, or the wives' attorneys. The deceit is discovered. And punished.

In but one thing did this stern jurist show that he was akin to nature. Since father and son were partners, and the serving of two years in prison by both might ruin the pottery works, the judge lets the son stay at the plant while the father does time at Atlanta. Later the son will do his turn while the father goes back to earning alimony for both.

"Shocks" In Stories for Girls

New York Times

Fashions in stories for girls have changed radically in the last ten years. Mrs. Hugh Hunter, an English writer here on a visit, has a record of keeping four serial stories going at once, but she finds herself a bit puzzled by the changing demands of her readers. While frocks have grown shorter and narrower, stories must be broader and longer. Shocks and thrills are demanded by flappers and subflappers.

An early serial called "Tied to a Turk" was a fascinating tale about a girl who was abducted and immured in a harem. Some of it, Mrs. Hunter admits, "was quite the goods." But these parts shocked the publisher and were promptly cut out. Now the story has been republished and with the censored matter restored. These were canny business men who could cut out naughty passages, and, instead of consigning them to the wastebasket or the flames, file them neatly away for a time when they would be appreciated. Look under S for Shockers, and find the proper stimulant for a lagging circulation.

Barbs By Tom Sims

Marrying American girls is a great Indore sport.

Chief Bacon Rind went to Washington to urge that the tribal rights of the Osage to oil lands be protected. If the Indians own any oil lands they'd better keep quiet about them.

Tomatoes have been substituted for beans on the navy mess schedule. What are they trying to do, take all the humor out of the navy?
